Dedication

... because—as teacher, counselor, friend—you have inspired, guided, understood us... because, through your personal magnanimity and professional excellence, you have become an inseparable part of our beloved Carolina... and thus, because Carolina will always mean the more to us for your having been identified with it... we inscribe with your name this record of our life at Carolina in 1957, as a lasting mark of our deep respect and affection for you—

Dr. Bernard Boyd

Professor and Chairman, Department of Religion

September

A new coed meets Chancellor and Mrs. House and Acting President Friday at the Chancellor's Reception held at Graham Memorial during Orientation Week.

Orientation

WOMEN'S ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

Seated behind Women's Orientation Chairman Annette Niven are, clockwise, Jean Crawford, Kathy LeGrande, Dot Grenlach, Melba Remig, Jeanne Sillay, Barbara Bennett, Joy Earp and Nola Hatten.

As the summer sun wanes, the first sign of autumn is seen in color-tinged leaves. The many days spent in springtime planting and summer nurturing are over.

If you are one of over eighteen hundred students filling the shadowy walks and still places with the sound which only newness brings, the abundant harvest is yours. Yours, because Bill McLean and his Orientation Committee planned and replanned a program to show you Carolina as it can be. Yours, because Annette Niven and the Women's Committee worked to give you the best, which is Carolina.

In the yet untraveled seasons of your life, one day, when the frost is light upon some other ground, you will return through your mind's years to Chapel Hill and will find upon reflection that the foundation given you was firm—that because of this your heritage was greater, that this was good—this Carolina way of life.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

Seated behind Annette Niven and Orientation Chairman Bill McLean are Elizabeth Dent, Jackie Aldridge, John Kerr, Mebane Pritchett; standing, John Brooks, G. P. Myatt, Pat Hunter, Luther Hodges, Jim Exum, Bob Jacobus and Jim Martin.

"How long must I stay in General College?"—freshmen meet the system during registration at Woollen Gyn.

The rushee is greeted at the door with a name-tag, pin and broad welcome smile.

Rushing...

The term "rushing" refers to "communication, direct or indirect," between any social sorority or fraternity member and the party interested in joining either; more specifically, it refers to that period of time set aside in the fall during which sororities and fraternities formally meet and entertain the rushee, finally inviting him or her to pledgship.

The sorority formal rush period this year lasted from September 21 to October 2; fraternity formal rushing began September 30 and lasted until October 5. Many of the sororities and fraternities also hold informal rush periods at the beginning of the second semester or some time later during the spring.

Rushing constitutes the culmination of weeks of work, manual and otherwise, for the Rush Chairman and the active members of the various sororities and fraternities; it is also the subject of a great deal of anticipation on the part of the rushee.

The refreshment table offers a pleasant setting for some serious fraternity talk.

Informal gab sessions, during which the rushee and sorority really get to know each other, comprise most essential element of any rush party.

The majority of rush parties are held in the evening. Sorority rush parties often feature group singing, skits and themes of every kind. Group singing and combo music are popular items at fraternity rush parties, though the most important feature of a successful rush period is any means which has most effectively enabled the rushee and the Greek member to gain a thorough personal knowledge and understanding of one another.

Under the guidance of the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils, UNC's six social sororities and twenty-four social fraternities rushed about 215 of some 350 new women and about 1000 of some 1200 new men, respectively.

After a week of careful appraisal and deep consideration by both rushee and fraternity: "Glad to have you with us!"—the rushee becomes a pledge.

Sororities

Stray Greeks

The Stray Greek Organization is composed of sorority girls whose chapters are not represented on this campus. Its aim is to provide a social outlet for its members, and to preserve the bonds of unity and sisterhood in sorority life.

This group was founded in 1944 under the leadership of Twig Branch. It has gained more and more recognition on campus since then, and its membership now totals almost thirty. This year the Stray Greeks handled the Panhellenic Post Office during sorority rush week, and each member served as a Panhellenic Adviser in her own dormitory. The Stray Greeks also took part in the Woman's Athletic program, service projects, and social activities.

Panhellenic Council

Sally Price, President

The Panhellenic Council is composed of three representatives from each of the six sororities on campus plus their alumna adviser, one representative from the Stray Greeks, and an adviser from the office of the Dean of Women.

The purpose of Panhellenic is to co-ordinate sorority affairs. The Council meets once each week to discuss sorority problems, formulate rules governing rushing, and principally to foster a friendly and co-operative spirit among sororities.

The Council sponsors various service projects during the year and also takes part in community projects in which every sorority has a chance to participate.

Alpha Gamma Delta was founded nationally in 1904 at Syracuse University, and chartered at the University of North Carolina in 1945. Her colors are red, buff and green and her flowers, red and buff roses. The publication of Alpha Gamma Delta is The Quarterly.

"All work and no play"—but only for the first few days. Then the fun began—hectic rush parties. Ann Houghton here to guide our efforts from a national viewpoint, and twenty-two wonderful Alpha Gam pledges.

Yes, "the little white house on the hill" had once again opened its doors to — Carpenter with her many trophies . . . Jane and her Colorado memories . . . "Blarney", the transplanted Yankee . . . "Earthquake Newsy" and her exercises . . . Joyace, who's always so punctual . . . Smith, the executive type . . . Byerly and her never-ceasing chatter . . . Schatken with "little Al" . . . Sue Brock, who will soon exchange her pin for a diamond . . . Frances, "What's happening tonight, Girls? Volleyball!" . . . Loretta making her daily jaunts from Melver . . . Gwen with a new hair-cut . . . Ann Page practicing her nursing on us . . . Sarah and her baby-face, carrying her bromine-smelling lab coat . . . Marilyn with her mysterious allergy . . . Marie collecting her 20% cut of the sorority money . . . Trudy, "Ladies, will the meeting please come to order-order-ORDER!" . . . Carolyn wearing out the road to Raleigh . . . Jackie, our Miss Student Government . . . Nola electing Ed as our official host . . . and Mrs. Patee, our beloved housemother, has seen us through it all.

And so, with the many rush parties, dances, coffee breaks and fraternity parties, bridge games at midnight, and kitchen raids, another chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta life on "the Hill" comes to a close but—

*"Friendship is the tie that binds us
And it will last eternally,
For dearest to our hearts are girls
In our fraternity."*

As we look backward to Pittsboro St., our year in broad scope we see here complete. Rush, then our pledges, projects galore, endless activities; each week saw more. Through the halls on a tour shows that third floor's most neat, the Shamrock and Rose Rooms where four cuties meet. Ann collects change for a Fast Raleigh call. Petite Mary Ruth trills, "I LOVE it, y'all." Ginger's spare minutes are scarce free from a meeting. "Hey, you guys,"—yes, there's Sandra's known greeting. Donna and Sarah just can't keep it hidden: those diamonds meant business (and darned if they didn't!). The second floor phone rings and our pledges shout, "In room number one, are all three of them out?" There's Ida, the Sigma Chi's Sweetheart this year. Dédé and her giggles—did they disappear? B.D.'s in the library, not so unusual; that social hour daily, she drops in so casual. Room two has both Yankees, there's Dottie and Gwen—out-argue Lee Ann. "The South won't rise again!" Midnight lights in room three are an everyday hap; Martha balances books—papers spread on her lap. Weezie and Jo talk the night through, Ben's still in Virginia; Deluxe has troubles new. Mary Rhea's "anamule" shouts to room four; while Rachael does favors, Jones bubbles full-score. Breece plans a fall hitching; Lib say time will tell. Minutes go with Miller, the cute Florence belle. Diana plans parties; Pat clutters their room with raquets and jodphurs, and Molly whose tune goes to "Ol Yankee Doodle"—and now for the gals who left us as pledges for permanent pals. There's Christy who lives in her cottage with Lee, and Ferrell Ann Harper, 'twas Curtis you see. They swap household hints and a frequent meal plan, but to us they give helps—how to get us a man. Carolyn and Cat hail from dear Chapel Hill; together with Gobble they help us to fill the gaps that our inexperience left empty; without their advice our mistakes would be many. Obligations still pile to the sky, yes siree—to both Johns we can't give enough thanks, and now we must turn to Mrs. Gorman, as we have the year through; her guidance has kept our Tri Delta skies blue. Now we bid fond adieu to our last favorite year, each day that we cherish with memories dear.

Pi Beta Phi

Chi Psi's illustrate that characteristic for which most UNC fraternities and sororities are known - a good party.

Fraternities and sororities seek to strengthen student-faculty relations by holding Faculty Teas periodically throughout the school year.

A true spirit of Christmas is caught as the Greeks play Santa Claus to local orphanages.

Fraternities

IFC Court members are, seated, Pete Killinger; Jerry Oppenheimer, Chairman; Jay Walker; Cleon Sanders; Chuck May; standing, Joe Walser and Don Evans.

Interfraternity

This year the IFC co-sponsored an Errol Garner of its most successful years. Under the capable leadership of Ed Hudgins, the IFC has sought to raise the standards of scholarship, brotherhood, and character necessary to any worthy fraternity. Greek Week, featuring a pledge banquet, exchange dinners, an afternoon of constructive work in the community, and interfraternity competition in a carnival and athletics, was again very successful. This year the IFC co-sponsored an Errol Garner concert, the proceeds going to a Chapel Hill charity.

The IFC, an organization composed of two members from each social fraternity, was founded to govern all social fraternities, to study their problems, and to promote co-operation among its twenty-four components. The IFC conducts the very extensive rushing program and publishes a book, given to all freshmen boys interested in fraternity life, which explains rush and its rules, lists each fraternity and its members, and gives a short history of each chapter.

IFC Executive Committee members are Dave Ward, Vice-President; Ed Hudgins, President; Gordon Darnell, Secretary; Bill Redding, Treasurer; Jerry Oppenheimer, Court Chairman.

Ed Hudgins, President

Fraternity pledges work together on a community project during IFC-sponsored Greek Week.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON PLEDGE CLASS

Delta Kappa Epsilon was founded nationally at Yale University in 1844, and the local chapter was established in 1851. Delta Kappa Epsilon publishes quarterly its official magazine, entitled The DEKE Quarterly, and the national colors are scarlet, azure, and old gold.

As Beta Chapter of Delta Kappa Epsilon celebrated its 106th year here on the UNC campus, the men in the chapter caused it to be another highly successful one. This year the flick team was in the capable hands of Panda—with Pearsall, the elder, and Diddy as his lieutenants. Shell, Weaver, and Possum were noted for their fine team play on the intramural teams, while Zog and Mozell were standouts. Hose went down the long, rough road of dating four to five evenings weekly along with Mule, The Earl, and several other local lovers. The Bad Admiral and Smashford did wonders in maintaining somewhat a semblance of order in their roles as housemothers. Poker, week-end bouts at Virginia, the beaches, and lost week-ends at Chapel Hill threatened to annihilate grades; but somehow everyone survived and seventeen new faces came in to see what life is like at college for the first time. Motorcycles hit an all-time high in popularity as both Healy and Staches cruised about the Hill on them—other aspects of racing this year: Zeb, Legs, and the Bat built a race track on the Pi Phi front lawn, while Chip made several nightly “tours” around the campus. Then all of a sudden it was June and everyone wondered where the year had gone.

Delta Upsilon was founded at Williams College in 1834, and the local chapter in 1953. The Delta Upsilon Quarterly is its publication, and the colors are sapphire blue and old gold.

Wedding bells took an unexpected toll, and we returned to the Hill without a treasurer. We also returned to a new house—had to learn how to live in a residential section again, and found that scraping and painting goes faster when a phonograph is playing full blast.

The house came out a conventional white with green shutters, but the artist element in the house pushed for a "different" color for the fire escape . . . red, red and white stripes, polka dots and even plaid were suggested at various times, with the conservatives always holding their own . . . the fire escape continued to serve as Guy's bed until the weather turned cold . . .

In spite of continual comment from his cynical roomy, Bob let Thelma lead him the way of the center aisle, and Jim V. continued commuting to Baltimore regularly . . . there were weekends when everybody scattered to Mary Washington, William and Mary, Greensboro and other places of personal interest . . .

Treasurer Jim M. keeping a silent record of when everybody's check arrived from home or Uncle Sam . . . did Charlie really bleed printer's ink? . . . always confusion with names—Bobs and Jims all over the place . . . speculation on whether or not our perennial pledge would ever be initiated . . . Tom C. coming in at night dead tired after a hard day over his favorite cadaver . . .

And there were parties . . . the first at homecoming and regularly thereafter . . . homecoming seems the most riotous . . . the Castle and the inevitable morning after . . . beach parties and Hogan's . . . and always incidents . . . Geiger making like a cross-country star, properly clad for the sport and trotting up Franklin Street . . . Roy's words of wisdom and Gerry's "KNOCK IT OFF! I'M STUDYIN'!" . . . quiet hours and a return to the high place scholastically . . . Ernst's all-night sessions on aviation . . . Andy and Jim V. conversing in chemical formulas . . .

Willy and everybody else getting fat on Percy's cooking three times a day—and after Willy worked so hard to lose weight . . . Jim V.'s hot plate and waffle iron within convenient reach of his bunk . . . Charlie's month-old fruit cake . . .

Don and Jim A.'s mighty efforts to blow every fuse in the house . . . how many accessories can be tied to three sockets?

Things have settled down after rushing and the Maryland game. We got the best pledges on campus. The credit goes to Zorah Flack. The fellows have been right human through it all, excepting Black-welder. Thad Bostic and Gay Cowan moved across from the 3D house. "Gimme one" Upton and Lee Lyon (he peeps in bridge) moved also. Quincy Ayscue has been limping all year, except when he beat three brothers to a seat beside a girl in the dining room.

We are happy to have the usual celebrities, such as the "Fastest Fat Man Alive" and the only female #1 in the history of the Order. Staton continues to serve IT up, and McCormick dines in utter bliss. Harry Steele isn't pushing the new pledges around—wonder why! Financial crises arise and "Nero" Fuller meets them!

On the athletic front KA lost its share of contests. Captain Fitts is on his way to a perfect season, with Carl Fabend a unanimous choice for All-Touch. "Rock" Hudson tried to hit a stationary ball at Finley; result, whiff! With cards in the limelight Jim Cole turned the colors of the spectrum when Sam Guy gobbled the "big ten." Maybe it isn't sport, but "Possum" Usina has a new game called "kitten, kitten, who's got the kitten?" Ray Newsome finally topped the Fox on the links. But Sly's propaganda was so far advanced no one will believe it.

Halloween and elections are approaching. Senator Barrington is stumping, and Bill Christian and Ray Jolly working overtime devising pranks. Jim Dockery is an authority on the cowboy vote. Ricky "Rat" Rechholtz is going to vote for Charles Atlas.

Maryland weekend saw many things straightened out. Mac McInnis says Terrapins aren't slow. Charley Bowles has no comment, and I won't awaken T. C. Homesley for his opinion. Word spread of a cock fight downstairs, but it was only "Ace" Connell dancing.

"Mystic Wizard" Hale and his stooge, Harold Tharrington, rule the third deck. Jerry Shinn is the brain behind the second deck. We all sleep better knowing Tom Melver is guarding our country, and Doug Wilson is quickly getting tar on his heels.

'56 broke upon Pi Lambda Phi bringing forth the return of 33 well-rested and anxious brothers. After policing the area, painting walls, and removing ping-pong tables from the living room, the house was ready for the advent of rushing—and how well we did! . . . 18 grand pledges, each and everyone eager to join with the brothers in making this a banner year for "Oh Mega Beta"—socially, scholastically and athletically. With our pledges also came the long anticipated basement, officially dedicated at Pi Lamb's annual alumni weekend, which, incidentally, was an affair held in the greatest Pi Lambda Phi tradition. After football season, with its four tremendous party week-ends completed, the house settled into the hectic and enjoyable groove of W.C. And who will ever forget Lippie's toting his tripod into the basement of Winfield Dorm, or Knock losing his shoes and socks in the pool on the patio of Elliott Hall, or Farber's flying trips to the Keys? Christmas vacation found us all enjoying the hospitality of our Wrecks, Dicky Sindell, in Miami Beach, with varous jaunts to Havanna—Maria Modas taking up a large part of our time and energy!

Spring semester heralded the return of warmth and the rebirth of the jolly laddies' romantic interests. Stan and Don became engaged and hopes were again held high for an addition to a house with growing pains. The traditional pledge weekend was the blast it always is; and then to the beach for a weekend of moral reawakening. The year ended sadly as ten men finished their undergraduate days and headed out to serve their "Uncle." All in all, we had a year which realized all of our expectations and could readily serve as a prime example for many years to come.

Dick Sirkin, President

St. Anthony Hall was founded nationally at the University of Columbia in 1847, and the local chapter was established in 1854. The official colors of the fraternity are blue and gold.

The past nine months were like nine years, or perhaps nine days. We did everything you can do at Carolina, yet before we knew it, Spring had come and the year was over. Oyer and Yollie kicked the soccer ball through unnumbered goalies . . . Williams-Rosebud — guides the great pledge class through the year . . . Kentopp stalked the NROTC drill field and steered the Dance Committee through another semester of regulations . . . Winston got married, poor guy . . . Bruton continued applying farmboy philosophy to Bill Poteat and his associates . . . Ludwig did too much . . . Oyer goes from bad to worse . . . and then the parties—the German's Club gave us a keg of beer for coming to their shindig, and we liked that one so much we instituted beer kegs—for instance the night Mr. Eisenhower won again—and then there was the coon hunt led by faithful Wilson (of course, we didn't catch a coon)—and the Christmas party—and the German's—and Swingout—and beach weekend—Gardiner's "between-the-sheets" bachelor party—and I've lost count . . . but we didn't party all the time, not literally . . . Dr. Caldwell and several other friends of the Hall favored us at dinner with very entertaining conversations . . . we seem to have been in on every phase of Sound and Fury this time —writing, directing, acting . . . the interest in politics revived itself with the Freshman class, and the Seniors decided to write a compendium of Errors in Bridge . . . the scholastic cup resided on the mantle for several months under Grady's picture, and the pledges were instructed to bow to both . . . Carolyn, Mary Agnes and Pam held court almost every evening while Ludwig, Buess and Hall fended off the serpents . . . and so the semesters passed. For most of the Hall it was just another great year of work and play, but for five of us it was the end of the finest group association we have ever known. Bruton goes on to med school and Oyer studies to be a dentist. Hall, Kentopp, and Ludwig sailed off as Ensigns in the USN, all hoping to get back in not too many years.

The University of Alabama was the site of the founding of Sigma Alpha Epsilon nationally in 1856. The local chapter was established one year later, in 1857. The Record is the official publication of the fraternity, and the colors are old gold and purple. The violet is the official flower.

The dawn of 1956 casts its lights on the 100th year of S.A.E. on the Carolina campus. The taking in of one of the finest pledge classes in our history was the beginning of a memorable year, with a rapid succession of good times—football weekends, Germans, S.A.E. weekend, and the glorious beach in the Spring.

Under the superlative leadership of Pat Hunter, the brothers gave spirited participation in intramural sports and campus activities, gaining laurels in many fields.

The complete redecoration of the house and the 100th Anniversary were among the many attractions that added new spice to the year.

It was their finest hour as "Fleetwood" Seely and "Rip" Van Winkle were inaugurated to the Presidency and Vice Presidency of "Skid Row."

It was with a sad heart that we watched a strong band of seniors receive their diplomas and depart for the last time from the doors of \approx 1 Fraternity Court.

"Chi's" begin 67th and best year yet . . . rushing adds 17 . . . Greensboro group continues to commute even with Melvin gone . . . school spirit excels as usual . . . football season and grab . . . Lomax and Bell add new limbs to family tree . . . Forbes and Parker surrender badges . . . Clyde can do no business with his plain pin . . . Hosea and Aubrey continue to impress girls . . . House resembles Monticello after complete renovation . . . quiet parties with group singing continue to flourish . . . "Naff" sets shining example for pledges . . . Rolo and Lacy elected sweethearts of nurse's dorm . . . Kiwi thrives on multi-colored pills . . . Ellerbe donates head to dates as mirror . . . Rose, Dunn, and Cooper vie for campus Casanova . . . Crates and Spotty cultivate bumper crops of goobs . . . Lopp competes with Mouza for tastiest food in town . . . Chalk shares himself with Tri Deltis . . . Cal succeeds Rug as keeper of jocks . . . Payne and Swearingen function at Monogram Club . . . Forbes makes first string . . . routine chapter meetings continue to filibuster . . . Plumlee initiates decentralization as policy this year . . . Ida adds final ingredients for great year.

Sigma Chi was founded nationally at Miami University of Ohio in 1855, and the local chapter was established in 1839. The official flower of the fraternity is the white rose, and the colors are blue and old gold.

Theta Chi fraternity was founded nationally at Norwich University, Norwich, Vermont, in 1856, and the local chapter was established in 1920. Military red and white are the colors of the fraternity, and the official flower is the red carnation. The publication is The Rattle of Theta Chi.

THETA CHI PLEDGE CLASS

First row: Clark, Brimmer, Hyde, Ward, Barefoot. Second row: Ray, Bowen, Brehm, DeBank, Hud-son, Summey, Flahive, McFadden.

George Moore, President

This year was a big one for Theta Chi socially. The variety of events included combos and cabin party weekends interspersed with the Pledge Dance in November, a Christmas party, and the regional Mason-Dixon Jubilee in the Spring. The big dance of the year, the Dream Girl Dance, was held in the Spring also.

On the rushing end Theta Chi did well. The Pledge Marshal organized the pledges and they functioned well as a group from then on. It was quite evident that we had a top-notch pledge class.

As far as the inmates of this house go, the memories of Harvey the Rabbit are slowly fading. Snell, of course, continues his tap-dancing in front of the mirror. Carter is still contemplating marriage. Hill Johnston tried to sneak out with the treasurer's strong box, but was stopped by Buzz and his shotgun. Buzz is quite the shot these days. Incidentally, Hill Johnston was our representative to the Centennial Convention which was held the first week in September. This convention was held at Northfield, Vermont, site of Norwich University. Bull tried his hand at cheerleading during the football season, but didn't get the response he expected. Giles turned from whiskey to women and Freddie-San put in his appearance several times during the year. Moto is still thinking of his honorable ancestors. Brother Wendt claims he saw George wandering around Kenan woods. Could it be that George is going back to nature? Allie, Randy, and Tug claim that Hahman has been talking about the two Romans crossing swords again. Leon visited W.C. several times and it certainly looked like he was planning on enrolling, judging from the time he spent there. Buddy is still down at the gym wonder if he is coming back.

Back to school again, and soon after, the start of rush week. ZBT pledged fourteen fine boys. It surely was a wonderful year, as we participated in one good time after another. Maryland, Parents-Alumni Week-end, Homecoming, Germans, Anniversary, and our fabulous Beach Week-end in the Spring.

Under the superior guidance and leadership of Bob Hornik, the brothers gave spirited participation in both intramurals and campus activities. Our alumni gave us strong support, as we surged forward in hopes of a new house in the very near future.

Now let us look into the ZBT crystal ball and see what our seniors will be doing in the year 1976:

Lou Rosenstock is presently heading the General Motor's Traffic Safety Division.

Mike Weinman is strategically guiding U.N.C.'s University in absentia from his penthouse high above Baltimore Street.

Jerry Kahn is caught in a "Gale" while cruising in the Gulf Stream revising the score from "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Bob Goldberg was engaged to Mamie Vanderbilt, but decided he'd muff his chance to be a millionaire.

Bob Hornik has finally finished medical school and is now doing research on cadaver Clyde Strowd, at the University of Carrboro.

Zeta Beta Tau was founded nationally at City College, New York City, in 1898, and the local chapter was established in 1927. The colors are blue and gold, and the official publications are The Zeta Beta Tau Quarterly and The Alpha Pioneer.

New York University was the site of the founding of Zeta Psi in 1847, and the local chapter was established eleven years later in 1858. The official colors are gold and white and the flower is the white carnation. The Circle of Zeta Psi is the publication of the fraternity.

A reflection . . . a casual scan into the memories of another year . . . a tattered hedge straining for existence . . . four white columns frame a red radio

. . . an occasional grab in the front hall . . . a house with a story to tell . . . these walls will always echo the voices of happy children from the Methodist Orphanage at the Christmas party . . . the Saturday trek to Kenan Stadium in the fall . . . Jimmy James at his usual post to help celebrate or to give a boost . . . caravan to Virginia . . . long hours and little sleep during rushing . . . a lot of sweat, a little luck, and great results . . . Germans, a concert by Fats, the dance, a party, and a three day recuperation plan . . . a break for Thanksgiving and back to the grind . . . a cocktail party to highlight the social year . . . the schoolhouse.

First two rows in the end zone at Woolen Gym filled by the troops . . . sawdust floor, muraled walls, beat up juke-box and plenty of noise, enough light to find your way out, or back in, equal the only underground landmark of Chapel Hill . . . foot ball games in the side yard . . . or more serious afternoons spent working up a bigger sweat and higher hopes . . . nervous tension built up for a big game . . . a supply of ducks from never empty-handed hunters . . . the hood party . . . Christmas holidays and then the last minute struggle for that extra quality point . . . snow announced by the clatter of glass.

Finally Spring and Hogan's Lake in full force . . . occasional beer and blanket parties . . . Clearwater and some bronze time . . . a few doublings, rain-coats and umbrellas, attire for the immediate vicinity . . . laugh of the year at Bumpkin party, square dance, and hayride . . . a yelling mob, a bumping, flying wagon, a difference of opinion among the horses and a pile of junk, which was once a wagon, left in the road beside the Arboretum . . . cabin trips to the mountains . . . weekend pilgrimages to the beach . . . retreat to the Azalea Festival . . . of course the usual pinnings and every now and then even worse . . . a moonlight cruise and cook-out on the beach go for a fabulous weekend at Morehead.

Just some of the ingredients which go to make another great year for Upsilon of Zeta Psi—now, hopes for an even better recipe in the future.

Y-Court

For some it's breakfast, for others it's what keeps them awake in the next class, and for still others it's what pulls them through the morning after—that "Y"-counter cup of coffee.

One can't spend four years at Carolina without getting to know "Y"-Court, that dirty strip of asphalt between the "Y" Building and Gerrard Hall. There's the guy who rushes into the "Y" at 9:05 to get breakfast before that nine o'clock class—or the coed who holds court on South Building steps at ten every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. In the fall every new coed finds that she must pass the inspection of that little knot of Juniors and Seniors who congregate in front of the "Y."

During the monsoon season we slosh over the muddy tracks of the eight o'clock crowd and sit there trying to get in that last twenty minutes of cramming before mid-terms. The bridge game always wins out and we say that cramming doesn't help anyway.

There are some of us who can't operate unless we have that lousy cup of coffee or a small coke in the morning. Sometimes we splurge and buy a couple of doughnuts and end up by feeding them to the dogs that wander through. In the Spring we fight the bees for possession of what little we were able to get after ploughing through that wild, screaming mob of fellow students—but then that's "Y"-Court . . . and Carolina.

On a cool, misty morning "Y"-Court is a picture of the simple, enchanting beauty which typifies the Carolina campus—indeed, which symbolizes the "Carolina Way of Life."

"Y"-Court is as much a part of Carolina as classes and Student Government elections.

UNC Band

UNC Band President Don Jefferson and Major-ettes Jane Brock, Carolyn Meredith and Jo Carpenter.

The University of North Carolina bands—Concert Band, Marching Band and Pep Band—directed by Herbert W. Fred, serve to provide Carolina students with an opportunity for worthy use of leisure time and for continued musical development through the study and performance of the best band literature.

The Marching Band provides music and pageantry at the football games. The elaborate formations and special musical arrangements used by the Marching Band for its half-time shows have become a trade-mark of Saturday afternoon activity in Kenan Stadium. The Pep Band performs at all pep rallies, several basketball games and at the Annual Indoor Track Meet.

A featured part of the Band's activities are its fall half-time presentations in Kenan Stadium such as this salute to its Alma Mater.

New uniforms add the finishing touch as the Band gathers on the steps of Manning Hall.

The Concert Band, composed of selected instrumentalists, begins its season when it performs for and is host to North Carolina bandmen who come to the University for the All State High School Band Clinic in late January. The Band's schedule includes formal concerts in Hill Hall, the spring concerts at Davie Poplar, a concert tour when possible and the Commencement Concert.

Mr. Herbert Fred conducts band practice every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday for an hour and a half.

University Club

The University Club is primarily a service organization, and all of its functions are carried through in the interest of the student body and the University. The motto of the club—"for the University"—is self-explanatory of the purposes of the club.

Composed of a representative from each dormitory, fraternity, sorority, the Cardboard, Band, and Cheerleaders, the University Club has direct contact with almost every student on the campus and acts as a co-ordinating body for many of the activities relating to sports events of the University.

The functions of the Club are many and varied. Through its cooperation with the Athletic Association, the Club seeks to promote and maintain enthusiasm and good sportsmanship in all University events and contests.

A blazing bonfire and the infectious enthusiasm of the cheerleaders run -pirit high at University Club-sponsored pep rallies.

University Club members are: seated, Sue Owens, Bob Kuhns, Barbara Honey, Lloyd Lohr, Melba Reming, Bill Holmes, Fred Propst; standing, Gary Greer, Todd Reece, Dave Jones, Jim Bynum and Joe Clapp.

Officers are Al Moise, Treasurer; Joe Clapp, President; and Annette Niven, Secretary. Not pictured: Jim Bynum, Vice-President.

Committee Chairmen are, seated, Grady Phillips and Pat Dooley; standing, David Ellwanger, Carolyn Hoffer, Pete Flahive and Hank Caldwell.

Members of the Cardboard Executive Council are Gordon Lindsey, Chief Artist; Bennette Whisenant, Head Usher; Snyder Pate, President; Esther Ballentine, Vice-President and Secretary; and Pete Evans, Office Manager.

The UNC Cardboard, composed of Art Office, Usher Department, and various other committees, opened the 1956 season with ninety-eight members, a remarkable increase over last year. This organization plans and stages the excellent half-time card stunts at UNC football games.

Committees to carry out additional functions in which the Cardboard of previous years has not participated were established. Posters and slogan cards to stimulate interest among students were placed in all dorms, sorority and fraternity houses, and classroom buildings by the Bulletin Board Committee. The Membership-Publicity Committee published listings of all activities and planned an effective membership campaign. An excellent entry for the Beat Dook Parade was prepared by the Beat Dook Committee. At the annual banquet the Scrapbook Committee presented an impressive display of the Cardboard activities for the year.

With the cooperation of all the members, President Snyder Pate did an excellent job in making the Cardboard a dynamic success.

UNC Cardboard

The Cardboard meets weekly to see slides of the previous Saturday's card tricks, discussing evident faults in these and presenting ideas for new corresponding card stunts to be performed at the half-time during future home football games.

Cheerleaders

Jim Bynum, head cheerleader, ushered in a "new look" cheering squad. Well-known by those who worked with him for his pre-dawn cheering practices and "calisthentic" workouts, Bynum guided the building, conditioning and maintenance of both his cheering squad and the renowned Carolina Spirit.

It was a tough job! Confident and hopeful as the students were, the spirit suffered devastating blows throughout the season. Nevertheless, true Carolina Spirit echoed from the stadiums and gymnasiums both at home and away, and Bynum and his squad capitalized on every opportunity to lift student support to heights reached during post-war years.

Regardless of how the win column expanded in any of the athletic contests, Carolina rooters had a highly successful season. UNC owes a lot to Jim Bynum and his cheering squad.

Football

Tar Heel coaches are Pat Preston, Ed Teague, Ed Kensler, Emmett Cheek, Jim Tatum, Fred Tullai, Jim Hickey and Trainer John Lacey.

Coach Jim Tatum returned to his Alma Mater with intentions of ending Carolina's six-year football drought, only to receive a bitter welcome in UNC's first contest from a fired-up N.C. State team as it struck with a savage offensive, taking a one-sided 26-6 victory—its first in thirteen years over a Tar Heel team.

Following this ill success in their first game of the season, the Tar Heels next traveled to Norman, Oklahoma, where they were likewise beaten 36-0 before a crowd of 60,000 in another one-sided affair. The following Saturday the victory-starved Heels were again beaten by a strong South Carolina team 13-0 in a game that was a much closer contest than the score indicates. The Georgia Bulldogs spoiled UNC's Homecoming football hopes by handing the Tar Heels their fourth straight loss, 26-12. Carolina scored first as Ed Sutton pushed his way into the end zone from the three-yard line, but the Georgia offense proved too much.

After four straight defeats, the Tar Heels finally won their first ball game in almost unbelievable fashion by crushing the big but bewildered Maryland Terps 34-6. For Coach Tatum nothing could have been more satisfying than to see his downtrodden UNC squad come to life and conquer Maryland, the team he had built into a national powerhouse.

The favored Tar Heels were held by their next opponent, a determined Wake Forest Deacon team, to a 6-6 tie. The following week Tennessee's powerful Vols remained undefeated as they repulsed a strong challenge from Carolina to take a 20-0 decision in a bruising Saturday afternoon affair.

At Charlottesville speedy Ed Sutton exploded for three quick third quarter touchdowns to give the Virginia Cavaliers a stunning 21-7 loss. Although trailing 7-0 at halftime, the Tar Heels turned Sutton and quarterback Dave Reed loose to score immediately upon gaining possession of the ball the first three times in the third quarter.

Sutton again ran like an All-American as Notre Dame's never-say-die Fighting Irish edged the Tar Heels 21-14. Paul Hornung scored the Irish clincher in the final 76 seconds. In the final tilt of the year, Duke continued their six-year dominance over Carolina by beating the stubborn but outmanned Tar Heel warriors 21-6.

Tar Babies

Freshman Football Coach Fred Tullai

Jack Cummings, Quarterback

Winning three of its five games, Coach Fred Tullai's potentially talented freshman football squad had one of its more successful seasons in 1956. Starting players in most of the season's games were ends Don Stallings and Ed Furjanic, tackles Jim Jenrett and Mike McDade, guards Fred Mueller and Ellis Woolridge, center Jim Davis, quarterbacks Nelson Lowe and Jack Cummings, halfbacks Cornell Johnson and Wade Smith, and fullback Jim Stevens.

The Tar Babies lost their first game of the 1956 season to the Baby Deacons of Wake Forest 14-12:

Jim Stevens scored for Carolina from the one-foot line after a 60-yard run up the middle of the Deacon line. Quarterback Jack Cummings passed for two touchdowns as the Tar Babies defeated the Maryland frosh 21-0. The UNC freshman gridders then when on a scoring spree to defeat the University of Virginia freshman 52-0. Cornell Johnson and Ron Hopman scoring twice. A victory over the South Carolina Biddies 31-0 continued the Tar Babies' winning streak. In the Cerebral Palsy Benefit Game on Thanksgiving afternoon, the Tar Babies ended their season losing to the Duke Blue Imps 45-7.

Homecoming

Despite Carolina's football loss to the Georgia Bulldogs 26-12, Homecoming on October 13 proved as eventful an occasion as ever.

Homecoming festivities were inaugurated Friday evening with a parade immediately followed by a pep rally staged at Memorial Hall, at which Coach Tatum introduced the Carolina team and Chancellor House entertained with his harmonica.

On Saturday, prior to the game, the displays of nine fraternities, six sororities, thirteen men's and three women's dormitories were judged in the University Club's annual display contest. Those by Phi Kappa Sigma and Tri Delt, Old East and Smith Dormitories won top honors in their respective divisions.

Featured at the game itself were the crowning by Alumni Association President Mayne Albright of Homecoming Queen Jane Brock and the presentation by the UNC Cardboard of six special stunts at half-time.

Following the game a reception was held in Cobb Dormitory basement, sponsored by Graham Memorial Activities Board and the Men's Interdormitory Council.

... and everywhere posters and signs read "Welcome, Alumni," setting the tone for a time during which Carolina rolls out the carpet for its returning alumni, welcomes home again its scattered children, young and old. Descending upon the Hill in racoon coats, pork-pie hats and high spirits, old grads led cheers, waved the Blue and White, were entertained at private and fraternity parties, and just generally enjoyed reminiscing, being back at their beloved Alma Mater . . .

Phi Kappa Sigma Centennial

Commemorating the One Hundredth Anniversary of its establishment at the University of North Carolina, Lambda Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma set aside the week of October 21-27 in celebration of its birthday on November 12, 1856.

Three hundred alumni and active members took part in the festivities, which featured an open house for sorority and independent women, followed by a faculty tea. Also highlighting the week's activities was a beer party for dormitory and fraternity officers at the Phi Kap house.

On Friday night, prior to the Carolina-Wake Forest football game Saturday afternoon, the alumni entertained the chapter with a cocktail party at the Saddle Club in Durham, followed by a banquet and formal dance. After attending the UNC-Wake Forest game together, Phi Kap brothers and guests concluded Centennial celebrations with a party in the Lambda Lounge, looking with confidence toward the commencement of a successful second hundred years.

Even the stairway was in use as Phi Kaps and guests wound up Centennial celebrations at the house Saturday evening.

An umbrella served both private and protective purposes as Phi Kap greeted alumna at the Saddle Club party.

Vocalist Debbie Brown added scintillation to a sparkling evening as she stepped into the spotlight with a spicy rendition.

Fall Germans

The German Club, composed of its original thirteen social fraternities, once again provided outstanding entertainment for the opening of the 1956-57 dance season. Under the leadership of President Keith Palmer, the German Club on October 26 sponsored the delightfully original music of the Billy May Band directed by the well-known sax virtuoso, Sam Donahue. As an added attraction, and for the first time in German Club history, a rock-and-roll band appeared. It was the indomitable "Fats" Domino. Both the Billy May Orchestra and Domino entertained at the afternoon concert and evening dance. The Executive Committee formed the traditional horseshoe figure during the dance; the members were presented with their dates. The weekend was topped off by the Carolina-Wake Forest football game in Kenan Stadium.

November

Members of the YRC are, seated, Diane Fogleman, Secretary; Jim Steele, Membership Chairman; Alvene Williams, Assistant Secretary; Keith S. Snyder, President; Sally English, Treasurer; Luke Corbett, Program and Activities Chairman; and Jerry Campbell, Chairman of the Executive Committee. Standing, members of the Executive Committee are P. H. Craig; Alvin Rankin, Jr.; Stony Hinkle; David Smoot, Editor of Campus Young Republican News; Ted Smith; Eric D. Elliot; John W. Adams; Dave Suckow; Bill Sugg; John Moller; Linnie Von Wiler; Lucie Dearing; Jackie Hunt; W. E. Houser; Wayne Whitehurst; George V. Saffo, Jr.; Denton Lotz; Elizabeth Russell; and Nash McIntosh.

Young Republicans Club

The purpose of the Young Republicans Club is to acquaint college students with the objectives, ideals and principles of the Republican Party. The club also furnishes a means of acquainting members with the structure and personalities of our political life. It develops and fulfills an interest in the political issues of the day.

Glancing back over the activities of the YRC during the 1956-1957 school year, one sees the coming-of-age of the club, with a new-found spirit of vitality as the most outstanding accomplishment. This was manifested in many ways; for example, the membership increased spectacularly, reaching almost 400 members. The club proposed a campus-wide mock presidential election and then united in a tremendous effort which shattered precedent by electing a Republican candidate—Eisenhower—for the first time in modern campus history. These achievements are indicative of the new-found spirit and interest which characterize the club at present.

Other activities were also prominent in the calendar of events. Four lovely Young Republicans were entered in the Yack Beauty contest. We were proud to see Miss Sally English selected as a member of the Queen's Court. In the fall the club was host to representatives from other college YRC clubs throughout the state for a College Council meeting. Joint rallies with other schools were always enjoyable, especially those with W.C. The victory celebration on election night climaxed a hotly contested campaign; even the die-hard Democrats had a gay time at this party. Speeches by prominent Republicans were presented by the club. Guest speakers included Kyle Hayes, Republican candidate for governor, and John Wilkinson, a leading attorney in Eastern North Carolina.

Second semester activities were highlighted by the statewide convention of Young Republicans, held in Winston-Salem, Carolina was well represented through the largest group of delegates ever to attend a state convention. The year's work was climaxed by a party and banquet in May, highlighted by the installation of the new officers.

The primary goal of the UNC Young Republicans is to hasten the end of one party domination in North Carolina. We are firm believers in a two party system and are dedicated to this end. We feel that most of the economic ills of North Carolina are directly and indirectly a result of one party politics.

Keith S. Snyder, President.

Although Coach Marvin Allen had one of the potentially strongest soccer teams in the school's history, three unexpected losses at the end of the season blemished what was an almost perfect season.

Starting the season in an impressive manner, Tar

Coach Marvin Allen

Heel booters won their first four games, scoring 18 goals and allowing only 3. The first UNC win over Lynchburg 5-0 on Fetzer Field was followed by victories over Washington and Lee 4-1, Davidson 2-0 and N. C. State 7-2.

The Virginia Cavaliers ended the winning streak 2-0 and started the Tar Heels on a losing stretch in which they lost two more games to conference foes Duke and Maryland.

Coach Allan's first-rate goalie Chuck Hartman had his best season as a goal tender with two shut-outs. The forward wall was sparked by Captain Grover Brown, John Foster and Coleman Barks.

Dormitory Life

By fall 1958, Tar Heel men will be enjoying the accommodations of three new dormitories, bringing the number of UNC men's dormitories to twenty-two.

It's a strange feeling when you meet someone you've never seen before and know that you'll live with him or her for a year. You find out about each other and after a while you can feel some of the esprit that makes for growing up. Your officers come around in a frantic effort to get everyone to the meetings on time and there's always the intramural manager or WAA representative who is continually on the lookout for someone to fill out the badminton team.

The people next door have a hi-fi set that plays until two every morning and you try to study and inevitably end up in a bull session, hen party or card game that lasts into the late night. During elections you are cursed with an unending stream of politicians who will never understand that they lose your vote as soon as they stick that pamphlet into your uneager hand.

At the end of the year you say goodbye to your roomie and wonder how you could know someone so well in nine months.

A setting sun silhouettes the collegiate Gothic style of Battle Dormitory, erected in 1912 facing onto Chapel Hill's main street.

In January Dean Carmichael was "at home" to members of the student body, faculty and administration in Spencer Hall, to which the comforts of an additional seventy-five-room wing are being added.

Women's Residence Council

Members of the WRC are, seated: Betsy French, Treasurer; Joy Earp, Vice-Chairman; Peggy Funk, Chairman; Lee Ann Curtis, Secretary; Mrs. Mase Neil, Advisor; and Barbara Moore; standing: Margot Hammond, Representative from Women's Honor Council; Jean Peay; Eve McClatchey; Evalyn Hosterman; Barbara Battle; Julia Ann Crater; Jeanne Sillay; Dot Pressley; Carol Jones; Margie Staub; Anne Smith; Tita White; Cater Baxley; Marilyn Strum; Joanne Fitzgerald; Deane Coats; and Polly Clarenback.

Women's Residence Council is the women's legislative body of the Student Government. The Council assumes the responsibility of establishing dormitory and social rules, of granting late permission, of sponsoring a campus-wide leadership training program for women, and of making the University a better place in which to work and grow. Each spring the editor of the Women's Handbook and the Chairman of Women's Orientation are selected by the Council. In executing its duties the Women's Residence Council works in cooperation with the Office of the Dean of Women, the Women's Honor Council and the Administration of the University.

Presided over by a chairman elected in the spring campus elections, the Council is composed of the dormitory presidents, one junior elected as representative-at-large from each women's dormitory, sorority house managers, House Council coordinator from the Women's Honor Council, and an ex-officio member from the Office of the Dean of Women. The positions of vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer are filled from the Council in the fall.

President Hallford presents membership certificates to IDC Representatives.

The council itself is composed of an executive committee and the President and IDC Representative of each dorm. Over three thousand men living in nineteen dorms were represented this year. Another integral part of the group is the Interdormitory Court which tries all violations of dormitory regulations.

Shirley Carpenter was selected as Dormitory Sweetheart for 1956-57.

Beauty Contest

Chi Psi pledges Art Schwerzel and Jerry Adams assist beauty contestant Jackie Aldridge through the arch.

Co-Beauty Editors Judy Davis and Gene Whitehead inspect the Queen's crown.

The long-awaited result: fifteen happy campus beauties have stepped through the arch as announced by Jimmy Capps amid the approving applause of the audience.

The Phi Kappa Sigma Dixieland Combo entertained during intermission.

One hundred three of Carolina's loveliest coeds gathered in Memorial Hall November 8, 1956, to present judges Monk Jennings, Ty Boyd and Charlie Cash with the unenviable task of selecting the 1957 Yack Beauty Queen and her court of fourteen Princesses. Beauty, music by Flip Latham and his Combo plus entertainment at intermission by the Phi Kappa Sigma Dixieland Combo made the contest, directed by Co-Beauty Editors Judy Davis and Gene Whitehead and emceed by Jimmy Capps, speed rapidly by. Three eliminations, forty-five cigarettes, and one hundred eighty nervous minutes after starting time, Martha Williford was the judges' choice for Queen, while flashbulbs, kisses, congratulations and chaos greeted fifteen happy girls backstage.

Beauty judge Monk Jennings tabulates a final score.

PiKA Beat Dook

Highlighting a season of colorful pre-game rallies and parades, the annual Beat Dook Float Parade sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha rolled away from Woollen Gymnasium on the afternoon of November 20.

After watching the crowning of the PiKA Beat Dook Queen, Miss Lucinda Holderness, Junior coed from Greensboro, the crowd of students gathered in front of the gymnasium saw the thirty-five floats entered by sororities, fraternities and dormitories begin their circular course through the campus. Marching in the parade were the Lincoln High School Band, the UNC Band, the NROTC Drum and Bugle Corps and the AFROTC Drill Team.

Miss Holderness, chosen from among twenty-seven contestants, reigned over the parade with the six members of her court from atop the Pi Kappa Alpha float.

Winning in the sorority division, the Tri Delt float took as its slogan "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue 'C.'" The Chi Phi entry, carrying a huge cannon from which peered a Duke Blue Devil and bearing the title, "Pogo Says 'Blast Dook,'" took the honors in the fraternity division. Displaying a devil clawing at the "Pearly Gates" and the label "Devil, You're Above Your Level," Smith Dormitory's float was chosen most outstanding of the women's dormitory entries. Mangum Dormitory's sheet-draped "Queen," waving from a convertible, won the prize for the best men's dormitory entry.

A battered Blue Devil peering from a huge black cannon bearing the title, "Pogo Says 'Blast Dook'." brought top fraternity float honors to Chi Phi.

Faculty

The University of North Carolina School of Nursing, a unit within the Division of Health Affairs, provides educational opportunities for young women interested in becoming professional nurses. The School of Nursing offers a program leading to the degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing and covering two calendar and two academic years.

The University Health Center, located on the campus in Chapel Hill, provides hospital and out-patient experience in many fields, and includes a large general hospital, a tuberculosis hospital and a psychiatric unit. Additional experiences are offered through the cooperation of day care centers, health departments, rural hospitals and other community agencies. Qualified graduate nurses who have received a diploma from an approved school of nursing are also admitted to this program.

The School of Nursing also provides opportunity for graduate study leading to the degree Master of Science in Nursing.

December

Opening the 1956-57 intramural year on October 2, tag football ended December 7 with DKE fraternity the all-campus champion out of 69 competing teams.

The tremendous Tar Heel interest in basketball carried over into intramurals again this year as eight dormitory leagues of 46 teams, eleven fraternity leagues of 62 teams, as well as six church and ten outlaw league teams vied for the campus basketball championship.

The Medical School won the all-campus championship in volleyball competition which lasted from October 24 to December 9.

UNC's Intramural Department, directed by Mr. Walter Rabb, assumes the responsibility for supplying adequate facilities, trained officials and suitable competition in those activities in which students and faculty members have indicated sufficient interest to include in the program. These activities usually include tag football, fencing, tennis, volleyball, golf, badminton, wrestling, basketball, table tennis, handball, soccer, water polo, swimming, softball, horseshoes and track. An Intramural Council with representatives from both fraternities and dormitories work with the Department of Intramural Activities to determine activities, to govern rules and to secure as many participants as possible. About 5,000 students participate in intramurals during the school year.

The Department sponsors with the Women's Athletic Association four co-recreational activities each year: the Co-recreational Sports Carnival, the Big Four Sports Day, swimming relays and volleyball competition. A new addition to the Department's activities was the Rod and Gun Field Meet held this fall.

The intramural program is carried on through summer school, competition being held in softball, golf, tennis and horseshoes.

Coaches Frank McGuire and Buck Freeman, after building up Tar Heel basketball for five years, hit the jackpot in 1957. The Tar Heels stepped into the national spotlight last year with an overall record of 18-5 and a regular season tie with N.C. State for the ACC championship. Only one man, captain Jerry Vayda, was lost from the 1956 five and, with a trio of promising sophomores to take his place, Carolina again stepped into national prominence. By mid-February the Tar Heels were at the top of every major basketball poll and were the only major undefeated team in the nation.

This year's team was led by All-American Lennie Rosenbluth. Captain of this year's squad, Lennie now holds every important school record, including most points scored in one game, 47, and most points scored in one season, 846. In addition to Rosenbluth, last season's regulars Pete Brennan and Joe Quigg were back plus near-regulars Tommy Kearns, Bob Cunningham and Tony Radovich. Also adding strength were returnees Ken Rosemond and Roy Searey. In addition to his seasoned regulars, Coach McGuire had four boys from last year's frosh team capable of breaking into the lineup. These included forward Danny Lotz, guard Stan Groll, center Billy Hathaway and forward Gehrman Holland.

The 1956-57 hardwood campaign got off to a rousing start with an 84-70 victory over the Strong McCrary Eagles. Against Furman, Rosenbluth and teammates turned tiger in the second half and romped to a 94-66 win. Lennie hit for 47 points and broke a 15-year record formerly held by the great George Glamack. The Carolina squad easily won their next four games before the Christmas holidays.

Continuing undefeated over the holidays, the Tar Heels won three tough games in their northern trip to New York and Boston, and won the coveted Dixie Classic Championship. In the Classic the Heels ran through Utah, Duke and Wake Forest to cop the crown. Both Tommy Kearns and Rosenbluth made All-Tournament.

The basketball squad remained unbeaten through its next eight games to keep its record unblemished. The victories included a tough win over N.C. State in Raleigh, a double overtime victory over Maryland and a two-point win over Duke. A national championship could very easily lie ahead for the Carolina basketball squad, of which Tar Heel students and faculty have been so justly proud. As this book was going to press, the Tar Heel squad was on its way to the national finals of the NCAA in Kansas City, having won two collegiate championships:

Martha Richardson, President

The Young Women's Christian Association of the University of North Carolina, a part of the national and world YWCA, purports to do the following: to unite in a desire to realize a full and creative life through God; to determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people; to seek to know God; to understand Jesus and to follow Him. The association is open to any coed who agrees with its purpose and pledges her service and financial assistance.

This was the first year that the YWCA and YMCA put forth a united effort in program and finances. With this united effort came the institution of new activities such as the Nurses' Association, a graduate program, and "Y" Night. Membership and representation in the newly organized Campus Christian Council is the endeavor to unite the campus associations and other religious groups. In the fall the program was highlighted with a membership drive, organized study groups, and a breakfast for the new coeds.

The YWCA Leadership and Orientation Program was initiated in February with the presentation of "Family Tree," an original skit written specifically for the program.

Christian Association

Coed quartet entertains at "Y" Night, a talent show held at Memorial Hall in December and co-sponsored by the YWCA, YMCA and Graham Memorial.

There are six executive officers and sixteen committee chairmen who comprise the cabinet. Community services in Memorial Hospital, Gravelly Sanatorium, Dix Hill, Girl Scouts, and Homes Day Nursery combined with publicity, publications, speakers, vespers and intercollegiate are a few of these committees.

The "Y" welcomed a new associate secretary, Miss Anne Queen, and an assistant, Miss Eleanor Riggins. The majority of Carolina coeds have found a place in the YWCA where they can be of service.

The Hospital Committee, which supplies every day for two hours volunteer workers whose services are rendered in every phase of hospital work, involves the greatest number of YWCA girls.

Young Men's

Each fall immediately prior to Orientation, the YMCA sponsors Freshman Camp, a program accommodating about 200 men which attempts to orient these new students to UNC and to raise questions concerning purposes, truths and motivations.

The YMCA-YWCA Conference-Planning Committee makes final arrangements for the Spring Conference at Bricks Assembly Grounds.

The YMCA is a non-denominational lay movement made up of students, faculty and friends who seek to work together in living out the Christian faith in all areas of life through worship, study and action.

Membership in the YMCA is voluntary and open to all on the basis of interest without regard to race, doctrine or church membership. It is a democratic organization in structure which provides opportunities for students to make their own decisions and to take responsibility for the work which they initiate. At the heart of the movement is this objective: taking a student where he now is and giving him an opportunity to grow as an individual in Christian dedication and effectiveness.

This year the program has been planned jointly with the YWCA and all group activities are led by co-chairmen representing both associations. This has resulted in an increase in activities as well as participation by student and faculty members. Freshman Camp, a three-day conference for new students, began the year. A joint YMCA-YWCA Membership meeting on October 8th initiated the Study Program for members. Other activities and committees include those of the Campus Chest, Conferences, Community Work, Film Forum, Intercollegiate Relations, Office Force, Publications, Publicity and Public Relations, Race Understanding, "Y"-Night, Finance, Membership, Freshman Fellowship, Nurses and Graduate Students Fellowship.

The YMCA building located on-campus is the most popular meeting place for students. The YMCA's many activities provide opportunity for students to grow in maturity and to express their faith in concrete forms of service and action.

In February foreign students left for a three-day trip to Zebulon, where they participated in a project called "The World Comes to Zebulon," which was co-sponsored by the YMCA, YWCA and the Cosmopolitan Club.

Baptist Student Union

Members of the BSU Executive Council, which meets every Tuesday evening are, seated, Melvin Hipp; Pat Leonard; Sarah Buie; Oscar Bolch; Bill Pruett; Nancy Lattimore, Secretary; Janet Harper, Vice-President; standing, J. O. Cansler, Student Director; Clayton Stalnaker, President; Bill Baddley; Bob Noel; Jack Jourdan, Treasurer; Charles Maddry; John Albrecht; and Ray Jolly.

"You are writing each day a letter to men,
Take care that the writing is true.
'Tis the only Gospel that some will read,
The Gospel According to you."

This is the thought which impels each BSU member to put into practice the teachings of Christ, to promote a closer relationship with God, and to lead students into Christian work and fellowship. "In the name of Christ and by the power of His spirit" becomes the motivation and strength for the students who try to link the Campus to the Church through student worship, study groups, Sunday School, plays, Council and committee meetings, fellowships, and other student gatherings where the Gospel of God is discussed and the spirit of Christian love demonstrated.

During this year the BSU, under the direction of James O. Cansler, Student Minister, and Bud Stalnaker, President, has moved into its own completely furnished Student Center and has continued to sponsor a lively program of student activities throughout the UNC Campus.

Baptist students now enjoy comfortable, informal meetings in the attractive new BSU Student Center on Rosemary St., which, after purchase and renovation, was formally dedicated on November 18.

Clayton Stalnaker, President

A student-directed, student-supported choir supplies music for the regular Sunday morning worship service three times a month.

Wesley Foundation

Singing, under the direction of Bob Southerland, is an important part of the Wesley Foundation program, as Methodist students and guests from the Umstead Youth Center meet together at the church for a Sunday evening of supper, recreation and worship.

Wesley is the student's organization of the Methodist Church and its objective is one of providing a supporting group in which the students can individually strengthen each other and together find a clearer meaning to the Christian Way of Life. Wesley provides an atmosphere where students may re-evaluate their beliefs and benefit from the experience of sharing ideas and beliefs with others.

The Wesley group meets every Sunday evening at the University Methodist Church for fellowship and worship together, and every weekday evening the students can attend the daily Vesper services. Wesley affords many activities to the students through discussion groups, the Wesley Choir, the Rhythm Choir, the fall and spring retreats and the weekly square dance groups.

This year the Wesley Foundation is under the very capable leadership of Zane Eargle, President; Tommy Johnson and Ray Long, First and Second Vice-Presidents; Barbara Moore, Secretary; and John Brooks, Treasurer.

The Hillel House on Cameron Avenue, built in 1951, is the religious, social and cultural center for Jewish students at UNC.

Hillel Foundation

The Hillel Foundation—more correctly known as the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation—is an organization maintained for the benefit of the Jewish students on more than two hundred campuses in the United States, England and Israel.

Financed largely through the B'nai B'rith, a service organization, Hillel functions to meet the religious, educational, social and cultural needs of the Jewish students. The Foundation building, known as Hillel House, was erected in 1951 with funds donated by the Jewish communities of North Carolina.

While the general administration of all aspects of Hillel is in the hands of its Director, the actual development of program is the responsibility of the Hillel Cabinet, a form of student government whose membership is made up of representatives of fraternities, independents and graduates. The Cabinet elects its own officers. Members of the Cabinet function as chairmen of committees, which include: Religious Activities, United Jewish Appeal, Macca-bead (Athletics), Social, Cultural, Hillel-YMCA Film Forum, etc.

The term of office of all members of the Cabinet approximates the full twelve-month school year. The incumbent officers of Hillel are: Albert Waitman, President; Sue Gichner, Vice-President; Gary Balkind, Secretary; Bob Weinstein, Treasurer.

Al Waitman, President

Hillel Cabinet members are, seated, Bob Weinstein, Treasurer; Sue Gichner, Vice-President; Al Waitman, President; Gary Balkind, Secretary; Stan Kornfeld, Morton Dear; Carolyn Fink; Dick Schulman; standing, Steve Mirman, Burton Horowitz and Rabbi Rosenzweig.

Lutheran Student Association

On Sunday evening, following a six o'clock supper at the church and prior to a devotional service, Dale Austin, President of the Lutheran Student Association, conducts a short business meeting.

The Lutheran Student Association's program is one of guided adventure into worship, study, evangelism, service and recreation. A program thus inclusive prepares us through experiences to project the light of Christ into the many facets of college and post-college life. We strive to keep the atmosphere one in which each works for the joy of his own task.

Newman Club

The Newman Club, whose name and ideals are derived from the renowned Cardinal Newman of England, is a nationally federated organization of Catholic students. It affords Catholic students religious, intellectual and social cooperation and inspiration.

Guided by the Executive Council, the Newman Club, which provides spiritual, intellectual and social fellowship for Catholic students at UNC, met every second Sunday in Graham Memorial prior to the March inauguration of the new Catholic Church in Chapel Hill.

With one down and four confused, Marilyn Strum prepares a tricky return for her Carr Dormitory team against the Tri Deltas in women's intramural volleyball competition.

The Women's Athletic Association offers a wide variety of activities to all women students at UNC. It provides competition in tennis, volleyball, table tennis, shuffleboard, swimming, basketball, softball, and dancing. The WAA sponsors co-recreational volleyball and swimming and special sports days. Sports clubs include the Hockey Club, Tennis Club, Modern Dance Club, Square Dance Club, and Splash Club, the latter featuring a synchronized swimming ballet.

All women students automatically become members of the WAA, and all activities are carried on in accordance with the standards of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. Letters and stars are awarded on the point basis each fall and spring. WAA awards a cup to the sorority and dormitory leading in participation for the year, and other leaders in WAA are recognized by the outstanding senior and representative awards.

A comfortable, personal acquaintance with UNC follows that initial stage of bewilderment as a thorough program of orientation introduces the new junior coed to the Carolina Way of Life.

Following Christmas holidays, many Tar Heels find themselves seeking quiet, solitary confines in which to catch up with delinquent studies and to recuperate from a hectic holiday pace.

January

Starting members of the Carolina Basketball team relax in the dressing room after defeating N. S. State 87-53 in Raleigh January 15 and moving up to the top position in the country.

January is final exam time—Carolina coeds show that casual cramming can be done.

As the fall semester came to an end, so also did the Tuesday and Thursday evening WUNC-TV appearances of Dr. Bernard Boyd, as the accredited course in his famed Religion 23 was brought to a close.

Graham Memorial

This year Graham Memorial celebrated its 25th Anniversary by having a month-long birthday party which included free flicks, well-known speakers, a Sound and Fury production, Student Entertainment Committee presentations, "Les Petite Musicales" and an open house complete with a birthday cake.

Students were treated to free dance and bridge lessons and Saturday night combos in the Rendezvous Room. They were able to attend the Mardi Gras Weekend which featured Louis Armstrong and his band as well as the Mitchell-Ruff Duo.

The Union was available—as it always has been and will continue to be—for student meetings and as a place to relax and join in activities which are planned and executed by a student group, GMAB.

Graham Memorial has an unlimited future that will have as an item of its past a 25th Birthday Celebration that we are confident will someday be surpassed by a Golden Anniversary, a Centennial—but for now we are proud of our 25 years of progress.

Linda Mann, Director

The Graham Memorial Student Union was opened in 1932 in memory of Edward Kidder Graham.

GRAHAM MEMORIAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS

POOL ROOM STAFF

Seated: Lonnie Stephenson, Don Laster, and Thomas Averitt. Standing: Tom Bobbitt, Ben Carrin, Bill Sneed, Bill Hardesty, and Ed Norris.

GMAB Committee Chairmen are, seated: Chuck Flack, Dance Committee; Esther Ballentine, Calendar Committee; Bill King, Recreation Committee; Jim Armstrong, Mardi Gras Committee; Lee Ann Curtis, Receptions Committee; Gene Whitehead, Forum Committee; standing: George Mitchell, Music Committee; Tom Johnson, Film Committee; Lloyd Shaw, Calendar Committee; Mike Strong and Warren Miller, Publicity Committee; and John Brooks, Polls Committee.

Graham Memoria

Throughout the year at Carolina some 200 students work with the Graham Memorial Activities Board to direct the programming arm of the campus Student Union. Whether it's arranging free movies or typing letters in the GMAB office, the work of these people is dedicated to the idea that a great university is incomplete if it doesn't provide a recreational program equal to the needs of its students.

In attempting to see that UNC measures up to its obligations in this area, some twelve GMAB committees function throughout the year. They are governed by officers chosen by the Board of Directors of Graham Memorial and by an executive committee representing all sections of campus life.

A typical GMAB week is as varied as the interests of Carolina's almost seven thousand students. During the week there are dance and bridge lessons as well as receptions for various groups and visitors.

Tom Lambeth, President

GMAB officers are, seated, Susan Walker, Vice-President; Pat McQueen, Secretary; standing, Bill Christian, Treasurer; and Bob Staton, Vice-President.

In January local song-stress Martha Fouse was presented by GMAB's "Les Petites Musicales."

Activities Board

"Chile-Hot," GMAB's student-written, directed and produced 1956 spring Sound and Fury presentation, was just as spicy as its title suggests.

The Polls and Forum Committees are periodically active to make sure that the more serious aspects of a student's personality can find expression within his Student Union. Campus talent works long hours during many weeks to produce the annual musical show which has become a tradition at Carolina under the label "Sound and Fury" and this year talented students extended their efforts to a campus talent contest. From Friday through Sunday GMAB makes its contribution to an active Chapel Hill weekend with free movies, jazz sessions, combos and free juke box music in the Rendezvous Room of GM; and on Sunday night several hundred students and townspeople gather in the Main Lounge of the same building for music on the slightly heavier side when a "Petite Musicale" takes place. Also, throughout the year, there are special events such as Players Incorporated's production of "Henry IV" and the Louis Armstrong dance during GMAB-German Club Mardi Gras Weekend.

It's all a part of that which each student remembers as his years at Carolina.

STUDENT ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

Members of the SEC are Mr. Kai Jurgensen; Linda Mann; Barbaree Prestwood; Shirlee Prestwood; John Kerr, Chairman; Martha Barber; Don Freeman; and Larry Harris.

... Graham Memorial

For its first presentation of the second semester, GM's Student Entertainment Committee brought to UNC the famous Don Co-sack Chorus and Dancers.

Soft music and the quiet, intellectual atmosphere of GM's Main Lounge provide the proper setting for that periodic game of chess.

In commemoration of its 25th Anniversary, Graham Memorial presented Mardi Gras Weekend, February 15-16, featuring the Mitchell-Ruff Duo and co-sponsoring with the German Club the Louis Armstrong Mardi Gras Dance.

As we leave Carolina, graduation bringing us all together those few last times—reminiscing as the senior procession moves forward—can we e'er forget....

... that first bewildering encounter with UNC...

... and afterwards, growing in Tar Heel sophistication and confidence, that special feeling of belonging at Carolina.

While climbing the steps of knowledge...

... and making firm that most important foundation of our lives, a strong spiritual basis without which all the rest is nought...

we gained new friends, found new companions, returned to the old ones each year—the relationships differing, but each with that definite Chapel Hill quality...

We swelled with pride at the accomplishments of our fellow Tar Heels, at the achievements of our school . . .

. . . and at the simple grandeur, the magic of our surroundings.

There was the excitement, the thrill . . . that big one . . .

. . . and the little ones.

There has been so much crammed into four short years—memories are endless, especially on that last day when we try to grasp all of Carolina . . .

Coach Sam Barnes

Returning from last year's varsity ranks to complement a fine wrestling squad this year were lettermen Dave Wall, Charles Boyette, Ken Hoke and Glenn Daughtry. Coach Sam Barnes also counted heavily on sophomores from last year's outstanding freshman squad. Leading the new group were Perrin Henderson, Dave Atkinson and Dave Corkey.

The Tar Heel grapplers opened their season with a 17-13 win over Wake Forest and a 12-12 tie with Washington and Lee in a wrestling doubleheader. The win was their first in thirteen tries.

The up-and-coming squad won their second match of the season 20-8 over Davidson and remained undefeated by out-maneuvering the Citadel Bulldogs 17-10 and the Virginia Cavaliers 16-15. V.P.L. king of the Southern Conference mats, handed the Tar Heels their first setback 29-5. Prior to the conference tournament in Charlottesville March 8-9, the Tar Heel wrestlers were defeated by Maryland 24-6, V.M.I. 21-10 and Duke 20-8.

Corps of Cadets

The AFROTC unit at the University of North Carolina, commanded by Colonel George J. Smith, has for ten years been an integral part of the school. The United States Air Force has been recognized as America's first line of defense, so it is the purpose of the program to provide a ready supply of officer material. New pilots and observers must be constantly trained.

In giving the AFROTC cadet the opportunity to integrate his preparation for a role as a responsible citizen with the more specific preparation for a role as a well-trained Air Force officer, the Air Force hopes to produce more well-rounded officers. Training here at the University consists of intensive classroom work as well as laboratory work on the drill field. Principles of effective leadership and the importance of military discipline are stressed.

The Corps of Cadets at the University of North Carolina has this year been changed in organization from a Wing to a Group. Its total strength is 276 cadets. Upon entering his junior year the cadet may qualify for the advanced program which calls for four hours of classroom work and two hours of drill each week. Upon completion of academic requirements for a bachelor's degree and the four years of AFROTC training, each man is commissioned and assigned to Air Force active duty.

Within the Corps, a band, a drill team, and a rifle team furnish extracurricular outlets.

Sabre Air Command

The main purpose of the Sabre Air Command, a national honorary society for AFROTC Basic Cadets, is to increase the effectiveness of the AFROTC program and to promote interest in the concept of air power. Another purpose of the organization is to give its members the opportunity to gain experience in leadership and cooperation.

Being a member of SAC, which has advanced rapidly since it was organized during the spring semester of 1956, will play an important part in the career of an AFROTC Basic Cadet.

Members of the Sabre Air Command are: kneeling: Walker, Caldwell, Major G. D. Lynn (Advisor), Zlotnicki, Burroughs, Jacobsen; standing: McCright, Lindsey, Arey, Houston, Baucum, Paige, McGuire, Davis, Mullen.

Carolina Playmakers

The Carolina Playmakers opened their 1956-57 theatre season in October with five performances of "Anastasia."

cated to the writing and producing of native drama.

The Carolina Playmakers are a very real Community Theatre. Any student, member of the faculty, or resident of the area may become a member simply by taking an active part in any one of the many phases of production of a Playmaker play.

The Playmakers' work now falls into two categories. First, there is a program of major productions, which in 1956-57 included "Anastasia;" "Androcles and the Lion," which toured four states; "Desire Under the Elms;" "Brigadoon;" and "Peer Gynt." Second, there are experimental productions written, staged, and acted by students. At least one full-length play by a new playwright is presented as a major production. A third category may be added; for the Playmakers are responsible for bringing to Chapel Hill such shows as "Three For Tonight" with Marge and Gower Champion and Harry Belafonte, and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" with Paul Douglas, Wendell Corey, and Steve Brodie. This year they brought to Memorial Hall "The Best of Steinbeck," featuring Constance Bennett and three Hollywood actors; and scheduled the musical, "Foolin' Ourselves," with a company of twenty-five headed by Gene Nelson and Sue Carson.

In 1918, Frederick H. "Proff" Koch joined the University English Department and introduced his now-famous English 31, a course for beginning playwrights. Proff Koch's efforts toward a new and vital folk drama resulted not only in such successful American playwrights as Paul Green and Josephina Niggli but also the Carolina Playmakers, today a famed University theatre. Its famous building, across from the Old Well, was the first state-owned playhouse in the United States to be dedi-

"Desire Under the Elms," Eugene O'Neill's drama of a New England family, was presented in December.

Following its mid-November presentation at UNC as part of the George Bernard Shaw Centennial Celebration, "Androcles and the Lion" made a post-Thanksgiving tour of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

Highlights of the year for the Men's Glee Club, which meets twice a week under the direction of Dr. Joel Carter, were the March tour through North Carolina and South Carolina and two April joint concerts with the Women's College Glee Club.

Men's Glee Club

Zane Eargle, President

The Varsity Men's Glee Club gave its first performance at the beginning of the fall semester; at that time all new men interested in joining were invited to learn of the functions and activities which the club had planned for the year 1956-57.

After the new men had been selected, the club under the direction of Dr. Joel Carter gave its first public performance of the season by taking part in the Founders Day Ceremonies. In November they made a tour of towns in North Carolina and Virginia and joined in a combined concert with the Virginia Men's Glee Club at Charlottesville, Virginia. In December they combined with the Graham Memorial Activities group to present a Mozart Festival. Their selection was Mozart's "Magic Flute." In the spring they joined with the Greensboro Woman's College Glee Club to present "Dido and Aeneas." This program was presented both at Greensboro and Chapel Hill.

To round out their successful season the club toured several towns in the immediate vicinity, and in April they made an extended tour throughout the state.

Dialectic Senate

Over one hundred and sixty years ago, when both the University and the nation were still in their infancy, the present-day Senate of the Dialectic Literary Society had its beginning. Since its inception, the Senate has played a role of ever-increasing importance on the campus and in the state and nation. Its record of service and leadership is at once a witness and a tribute to the tradition of liberalism for which the University is justly famous.

The history of the Senate is bound inextricably with that of the University. In addition to the usual functions of a literary society, the Senate for many years served as a vital part of student government. As Carolina grew, the Dialectic Senate grew with it, contributing to and sharing in the prestige of the University.

Stan Shaw, President

Today the Senate devotes itself to debate and to discussion of subjects ranging in scope from politics to philosophy—from Chapel Hill to Egypt. Debate is governed only by rules of parliamentary procedure; and every Senator has the privilege of expressing his views, however radical or reactionary they may be. Delivery of speeches is infinite in variety, and there is never a debate lacking in wit and humor.

When the Di meets every Tuesday evening in New West and continues its tradition of free and informative debate, it is living proof that tradition is not a stuffed-shirt affair. In 1956, equally as in 1795, the Senate is a vital part of the work of the University. Now, as then, the Di carries on its service of turning out men and women capable of thinking for themselves and making their own decisions.

Today, when free speech and free thought are endangered as never before, the Senate is challenged to further the ideals it has cherished and upheld throughout the years. We of the Dialectic Senate are confident that the challenge will be met. Though its past achievements are great, the Senate will never be content to rest on them as a substitute for action. Rather it will build upon its heritage of service and leadership, as is consonant with the ever-broadening horizons of the University of which it is a part.

Philanthropic Assembly

The Assembly of the Philanthropic Literary Society today responds to 161 years of finest tradition by continuing to teach the arts of oratory and debate while allowing the students to freely express their opinions on matters of concern to themselves. Activities of the Phi not only revolve around debate but also include such events as the annual Phi-Di banquet, at which time an award is presented to an alumnus of one of the two Literary Societies. The Societies also hold an annual joint debate and a "favorite readings night."

The Phi has produced many prominent state and national leaders during its colorful and inspiring past and today continues to function as the training ground for leadership. Among the Phi Alumni who are on the campus are Chancellor House, Albert Coats and Dean Carlyle Sitterson.

The venerable Society debates bills in nearly every realm of thought and controversy, and its decisions and views are highly respected. The Phi also serves a vital function as the "Campus Watch-dog," pointing out injustices and areas of trouble should they arise among the student body.

Currently the Phi is attempting to direct public speaking and oratory toward a prominence that it was enjoying in the early days of our nation. In conjunction with this, an effort is also being made to familiarize the campus with the colorful oratorical styles that are rapidly disappearing.

Phi Hall is located on the fourth floor of New East Building and houses the Assembly's valuable portrait collection of former members. Debates are held in the Hall on Tuesday evenings at eight o'clock.

Governing inter and intra-collegiate speaking activities is the job of the Debate Council. Accordingly, it consists of representatives of the Philanthropic Society, the Dialectic Senate and the Debate Squad. Debate between these three groups was organized and plans were laid for their joining a national honorary speaking fraternity.

One of the most important functions of the Debate Council is organizing tournament plans for the Debate Squad, whose members debated on this year's national topic, "Resolved: The United States Should Discontinue Foreign Aid." Some of the inter-collegiate debates entered this year by the Squad included the Southern Debate Tournament at Wake Forest College, the University of South Carolina Tournament, the Marshall-Wythe Tournament sponsored by the College of William and Mary, the Dixie Classic Tournament at Wake Forest College, and the Hall of Fame Tournament held under the auspices of New York University.

John Brooks, Sonny Evans, Faculty Advisor Dr. Norman W. Mattis, Dave Lieberman and Forbes Ramsey constituted the Debate Team which won third place in the New York University Hall of Fame Tournament early in December.

Carolina Forum

Jim Holmes, Chairman

The Carolina Forum scheduled a February appearance for its second speaker of the school year, V. K. Krishna Menon, Chairman of the Indian Delegation to the United Nations.

Carolina Forum members are Jess Stribling, Paul Whitfield and G. P. Myatt.

This season marks the twenty-first year of the speaker presentation series of the Carolina Forum. During these years, the campus of the University has heard voiced, through the sponsorship of the Forum, opinions on every philosophy or ideology extant in the twentieth century world.

Since its founding, the Forum has striven to bring to the students of this University the most outstanding leaders in the world. It has presented three presidents of the United States, numerous Senators and Congressmen, in addition to foreign ambassadors and justices of the Supreme Court.

This year arrangements have been made to present: Dr. Hollington K. Tong, Chinese Ambassador to the United States; Vice-President Richard M. Nixon; V. K. Krishna Menon, Chairman of the Indian Delegation to the United Nations; Walter P. Reuther, Vice-President of the AFL-CIO; and Senators Stuart Symington, Paul Douglas and Strom Thurmond.

The Forum feels that in the academic year 1956-1957 it will approach the fulfillment of its perpetual ideal—to bring to the campus of the oldest state university in the nation the political, educational, and economic leaders of the world.

Chancellor House and Jim Holmes meet Hollington K. Tong, Ambassador of the Chinese Republic to the United States, following his September speech at UNC.

Harvey Jones
Head Doorman

The University Dance Committee members, distinguished by their blue and white rosettes, act traditionally as hosts for Carolina's dances and maintain order at campus social functions. The Dance Committee was fortunate to have Dr. George Shephard as its faculty advisor. His unselfish contributions of both time and advice were greatly appreciated. This year's dances were outstanding, and certainly credit and thanks are due to all the sponsoring organizations for their fine planning. The records of these dances are also a tribute to Chairman Don Miller, who worked diligently to achieve one of the most successful years in the history of the University Dance Committee.

Dance Committeemen Pete Kelley and George Wray, identified by the rosettes in their lapels, greet Pi Beta Phi pledge Doris Peter and her escort at the sorority's annual pledge dance held in December.

For the thirty-ninth annual celebration of Winter Germans, on February 16th the UNC German Club sponsored the "King of Jazz" Louis Armstrong and his All-Stars. The weekend indeed seemed the biggest in Carolina's social history, featuring Armstrong along with MONITOR, NBC's weekend radio feature, which recorded highlights of the weekend for national broadcast.

Memorial Hall was packed for the concert; over four hundred chairs were moved in to accommodate the overflow crowd. The attendance at the dance was the largest in recent years and Armstrong was at his best to please the throngs of students and faculty members who migrated to Woollen Gymnasium.

Jimmy Capps, of radio station WPTF, interviewed "Satchmo" backstage before the concert for MONITOR. Parts of the concert and interviews with basketball coach Frank McGuire, All-American Lennie Rosenbluth and Tommy Kearns were also broadcast the following weekend over NBC.

The Pharmacy Senate was founded at the University in 1940. Membership is limited to thirty members from the School of Pharmacy. The purposes are to stimulate and increase knowledge and appreciation for the profession of Pharmacy, to promote interclass co-operation within the school, and to teach public speaking as a foundation for future leadership.

School of Pharmacy

E. A. Brecht, Dean

Fall semester of 1956 marked the beginning of the fifty-ninth year of pharmaceutical education at the University of North Carolina. The school, which is the only institution of pharmaceutical training in this state, offers a four-year course leading to a degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy; on the graduate level study towards a Master of Science or Doctor of Philosophy degree is offered in pharmacy or pharmaceutical chemistry.

Students in the School of Pharmacy enjoy the unique position of being enrolled in a "college within a college." They enjoy many of the advantages offered by attending a university as well as the benefits offered by a smaller school, almost complete within itself, of more individual instruction and personal attention.

Pharmacy school does not consist merely of formal lectures and laboratories, but there are many student organizations centered around points of interest, such as the Student Branches of the APhA and NCPA; Rho Chi, national honorary pharmaceutical society; Kappa Epsilon, national pharmaceutical fraternity for women; Kappa Psi and Phi Delta Chi, national pharmaceutical fraternities; and the Pharmacy Senate. The school's social calendar is highlighted by fraternity pledge dances, the freshman picnic, and Pharmacy Weekend.

This is the School of Pharmacy—study on a professional level with those extra-curricular and social activities designed to develop conscientious and well-rounded pharmacists to carry on our time-honored profession.

Coach Dale Ranson's Tar Heel track team came through in the 1956 season to win three and lose three of six dual meets, to take a third place in the Atlantic Coast Conference championships. Co-Captains of the team were Boyd Newman and Charlie Yarborough; Yarborough and All-American Jim Beatty were the leading scorers of the squad.

Carolina's outdoor trackmen had their opening meet in the Florida Relays and managed to come home with one first place including a new record, a second place and a host of other honors. Ace distance runner Jim Beatty broke the old two-mile record with a time of 9:19.8.

UNC scored eight first places in winning meets from Clemson and N.C. State, 75-43½ and 75-40½, respectively. Maryland handed Carolina its first dual meet defeat since the 1954 season 86-16-44-5-6. Beatty ran his fastest mile in 4:11.8. South Carolina's Gamecocks pulled the ACC upset of the year, defeating the Carolina track team 67-62.

Sweeping thirteen first places, the Tar Heels won from the Wake Forest Deacons a 102-28 victory. In the Pennsylvania Relays Beatty crossed the finish line in 9:09 to set a new two-mile record. Carolina's track team took a convincing 82-49 win over the Virginia Cavaliers. In their final dual meet of the year the Tar Heels were defeated by Duke 71½-59½. Carolina was dethroned as ACC outdoor track champions and had to settle for third behind Maryland and Duke.

Consistent point winners during the season were Larry Maslow, shot-put; Bob Williams, javelin; Ronnie Anstell, 440; Boyd Newman, 880; Richard Waters, high and low hurdles; Everett Whatley, two-mile; Jim Varnum, dashes; Hilliard Greene and Ken Bryant, high jump; Yarborough, high jump, broad jump and pole vault; and Beatty, mile and two-mile.

Cosmopolitan Club

The Cosmopolitan Club provides an opportunity for exchanging many-faceted cultural ideas of the thirty-three countries represented this year at the University of North Carolina. The C. C. is composed of American students, townspersons and foreign students. The meetings usually include an informal social tea and a program which represents the cultural aspects of one particular country and is performed by members of this nation—one personal and direct way to promote understanding and friendship all over the world.

Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps Units are established in fifty-three colleges and universities throughout the country for the purpose of providing qualified Regular and Reserve Officers to the Navy and Marine Corps.

Students in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, although required to take the same courses and participate in the same drill and other activities while at the University, fall into two categories: regular and contract.

The regular program is a primary source of Regular Career officers for the Navy and Marine Corps. These students are selected on a nation-wide, competitive basis. They receive tuition, books and fees as well as $600 per year retainer pay. They are required to participate in three summer training cruises while in the program, and to accept a regular commission and serve on active duty for four years upon graduation.

The contract program offers Naval Science training to qualified students and a commission in the Naval Reserve, the Regular Marine Corps, or the Marine Corps Reserve upon graduation. Students enrolled in this program receive a small monthly allowance during their junior and senior years, but must pay their own tuition and other expenses. One summer training cruise between the junior and senior years is required of contract students. Upon graduation they are required to accept a commission and remain on active duty for two years.

Summer Cruise

... in the summer these college warriors take to the sea for practical application of what they have been studying for the preceding nine months. Some go to London, some to Copenhagen, some to Panama, others to Paris and Cadiz; but they all spend six weeks or so tossing about on the Atlantic Ocean, learning how to control the fighting ships of our country's Navy. The midshipman's day begins at 0600 (that's six in the morning) and continues through the day until 1600 (that's four in the afternoon), with watches to be stood throughout the night. During these eight working hours he does every kind of work there is to be done on board a Navy vessel—everything from coming the ship to holy-stoning its decks. Believe it or not, somehow it all can be very rewarding. Even though the hours may be long and the food sometimes fails to compare with mother's, you feel that you have done something worthwhile—that you have accomplished something that will better enable you to give your country a hand when the time comes.

But the summer cruise is not all work—not by a long shot! Unless, of course, you consider two weeks spent with complete freedom in the world's capitals work!

Back at sea the days seem to go much faster after your stay ashore; and before you know it, you are back in the States, a world traveller. Such is the summer employment of NROTC midshipmen.

Scabbard and Blade

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is a nation-wide military honor society with chapters located in leading colleges and universities having ROTC programs. Membership is by election only and selection is based upon military leadership and academic merit, the members being outstanding ROTC officers. The purpose of the society is to maintain and develop the qualities inherent in good and efficient officers, to prepare these officers to take a more active part and exert a greater influence in the military affairs of our country, to unite in a closer relationship the military departments of American universities, and above all else to spread accurate and intelligent information concerning our nation's military requirements. Officers of the society are Darwin Bell, Captain; Hugh Cowan, 1st Lt.; Richard Booth, 2nd Lt.; and Gordon Brown, 1st Sgt.

The Executive Branch of Student Government has concentrated on working out many campus problems, the theme being "cooperation"—with faculty, administration and student groups.

New automobile regulations were initiated and imposed by executive committees, and for the first time in history, freshmen were refused the privilege of having automobiles at school. Responsible student action began this move.

Many improvements in the mechanics of Student Government were made under the influence and guidance of the Executive Branch. A "civil service" style of making appointments was begun, students being chosen for positions on a merit basis rather than on a friendship or political basis. An Honor System Commission was set up to function during Orientation Week, members of this Commission being carefully selected and prepared to present our Honor System to all the new students.

Other accomplishments were made possible with the cooperation of the faculty and administration.

The cost of date tickets was reduced to half-price for students' dates for home football games in the fall; a new class attendance regulation was adopted by the Faculty Council after consultation with several student leaders; telephones were placed on each floor of the men's dorms; and the Campus Chest and Hungarian Relief Fund drives proved successful, with more than $2,500 raised.

Government committee which polled students, compiled their opinions, and presented them to the committee.

One of the major concerns of the Executive Branch was the improvement of the Student Union situation at UNC. Plans were laid to obtain the services of a professional director and to secure funds for a new, permanent building. "Cooperation" was the theme for a successful year.

Legislature

The Student Legislature, founded in 1938, continues to be the supreme legislative branch of Student Government. With very few exceptions all rules that govern students of the University originate in and are passed by the Student Legislature. Well over one hundred thousand dollars of student fees are appropriated to various organizations and student publications each year, and the control of hundreds of campus activities is vested in the legislators. The campus is divided into ten districts—five dormitory and three town districts for men, and one dormitory and one town district for women.

The Legislature is presided over by the Vice-President of the Student Body who acts as speaker. Various standing committees are appointed from the membership of the Legislature to do much of the preliminary work involved. These include the Budget Committee, Ways and Means Committee and the Rules Committee.

Judicial

Pat McQueen, Chairman

The Women's Honor Council, made of up three seniors, four juniors, one graduate student, and one student nurse, is the highest women's judiciary body. The Council has original jurisdiction in all cases involving violations of the Honor Code and the Campus Code by women students; it also tries cases concerning certain infractions of social rules, acts as an appellate court to House Council decisions, and attempts to correct the source of any individual maladjustment.

The Council is designed to insure the fairest trial possible. Its authority is parallel to that of the Men's Council, excepting Campus Code violations. While upholding the principles of the Honor Code and the Campus Code, the Council also has an important role in the orientation of new women students into this aspect of campus life.

This year an Honor Commission, operating under the Student Government, attempted to familiarize the new students with the mechanics and meaning of the Honor System at Carolina.

Our Honor System is the insurance for maintaining a democratic atmosphere of mutual trust and understanding between the students and the faculty throughout the year. Its ultimate goal is the personal growth and development of all students, hoping to impress each student with individual responsibility for the effectiveness of the Honor System.

Men's Council

Jim Exum, Chairman

The Men's Honor Council has original jurisdiction in all instances of violations of the Honor Code by male students. The Council has the authority to reprimand, place on probation, or suspend a student from the University for a violation of the Honor Code. The responsibilities of the Men's Honor Council also include orienting new students to the Honor System. The theme of this year's Council has been to promote the Honor System throughout the campus by means of talks with various organizations, dormitories, sororities, and fraternities, and articles in the Daily Tar Heel. The Council has tried to instill in the mind of every student the worth and benefits of the system and to make them especially aware of the student responsibilities which the system demands.

Student Council

Luther Hodges Hodges, Jr., Chairman

The Student Council is the supreme representative of the judicial branch of Student Government. The academic year 1956-57 saw a new Student Council. This Council, as provided for by the new Student Constitution, has original jurisdiction in all cases involving violations of the Campus Code and all cases concerned with the constitutionality of any legislative or executive action. In addition, this court hears appeals from the Elections Board and such student courts as the Interdormitory Council Court and the Interfraternity Council Court.

The Student Council is composed of one member from the Men's Honor Council, the Interfraternity Council Court, the Interdormitory Council Court, the Law School Court, the Dental School Court, and six male students elected from the student body at large. Three women students are appointed members of the Student Council, serving in cases involving constitutional procedure.

In dealing with infractions of the Campus Code, the Student Council has endeavored to bring significant attention to the student's responsibility to conduct himself as a gentleman. Furthermore, the Council throughout the year has continually emphasized the corrective role as well as the punitive role of the judicial system.

State Student Legislature

Officers of the delegation are Nancy Rothschild, Secretary; John Brooks, House Floor Leader; Bob Harrington, Chairman; Jim Holmes, Vice-Chairman; Jim Monteith, Senate Floor Leader; and Tom Long, Treasurer.

On November 15, 16, and 17, 1956, eighteen delegates and ten alternates representing the University of North Carolina assembled in the Capitol Building in Raleigh for the annual State Student Legislature. This year's SSL brought together solons from twenty-three North Carolina schools to debate and pass mock legislation. The 1956 assembly passed such liberal measures as "A Repeal to the Pearsall Amendment" and "Intervention in Poland and Hungary," both sponsored by UNC. Highlighting the 1956 session was an address by the Governor of North Carolina, Honorable Luther H. Hodges. Once again the University delegation proved its mastery in the political circle by winning the Best Bill Plaque, and by having Jim Monteith, senator delegate, receive the Best Debator award. Further recognition goes to Jim Holmes, House Parliamentarian, who guided the assembly in the path of just rule on many occasions.

The Carolina delegation officers were: Bob Harrington, Chairman; Jim Holmes, Vice-Chairman; John Brooks, Floorleader; Miss Nancy Rothschild, Clerk; Tom Long, Treasurer; and Joel Fleishman and Charlie Dean, Social Chairmen.

Members of the Carolina delegation to the SSL met in the early fall to decide upon a bill to be introduced at the mock Student Legislature held at Raleigh in November.

CUSC members are John Kerr; Jackie Aldridge; Martha Barber; Jim Kinzey, Chairman; Sonny Hallford; and Sonny Evans.

Consolidated University Student Council

The Consolidated University Student Council is composed of fifteen student leaders from the three schools composing the Consolidated University of North Carolina: the Woman's College, State College and Carolina. The Council was set up to fulfill the needs of consolidation on the student level.

It strives to do this by sponsoring a Consolidated University Day at each school every year and by meeting and discussing problems common to the three schools. The leaders on the Council take these issues back to the administrations and student governments at each campus.

National Student Association

The National Student Association is an organization composed of over three hundred colleges and universities throughout the United States. NSA has contributed such things to the Carolina Campus as the present orientation system, student government organizational arrangements, and leadership training. In return the University has provided two national presidents of the Association and numerous vice-presidents. This has been done over a period of ten years since the Association was formed in 1946.

The Association grew out of a need for a body that could truly represent the opinions of all the students in this country. It was founded in opposition to a Communist controlled group which was set up in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in 1945. Several students from the United States attended this meeting, one of them being James Wallace from Chapel Hill. When these representatives saw that the International Union of Students was turning into a Communist front, they pulled out and came back to start NSA.

Since that time NSA has experienced a rapid growth. Some of the various programs of NSA are fall and spring Regional Assemblies, a Congress held annually in the summer, and a well developed program of projects for member schools of all types. There is also a Travel Bureau which plans economical trips abroad for the students of member schools.

NSA members are Bill Wible; Harriett Bobbitt; G. P. Myatt and Stan Shaw, Coordinator.

One of the two political parties at UNC, the UP boasts some 200 members, meets every Tuesday evening in Graham Memorial.

University Party

Under the dynamic, intelligent leadership of Chairman Mike Weinman, the University Party this year doubled its membership. This responsible party nominated qualified, capable candidates who would work for the betterment of Student Government and proposed legislation and objectives that would benefit every section of the Carolina campus from the dorms and fraternities to Victory Village. The untiring efforts of Chairman Weinman and the loyal support of the entire party made this year one of the most successful in UP history. A sincere group worked toward the elimination of "petty politics" and the improvement of campus conditions. Serving with Chairman Weinman during the fall term were Al Goldsmith, Vice-Chairman; Harriet Bobbitt, Secretary; and Jerry Jones, Treasurer. During the spring term, Butch Tomlinson served as Vice-Chairman and Dave Davis served as Treasurer.

The University Party is the oldest student political group on the Carolina campus, having been founded in 1926 by a small number of students interested in increasing the effectiveness of student government. The UP became a campus-wide organization in the early thirties and has functioned continuously since that time.

Representing student opinion is the goal of the party; therefore, the representation system is based upon the principle that each voting member must represent at least twenty-five students. This enables the UP to maintain close contact with the students at all times.

Mike Weinman, Chairman

In the late evening on election day a tense crowd gathers in Graham Memorial as final vote tabulations roll in.

At election time "Y"-Court is the Tar Heel politico's haven—the place where he can see and be seen, in person and on poster.

... Elections

Student Government elections are held twice a year, usually in November and in March; this year, due to a new election law, spring elections fell upon the first Tuesday in April.

Administering all laws governing elections as passed by the Legislature, the Elections Board conducts the regular campus elections and any special elections which may arise.

Regarded as "the" election at UNC is that held in the spring, at which time are elected the President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of the Student Body, as well as Sophomore and Senior Class officers, Head Cheerleader and editors of the campus publications. Appearing on the multi-colored ballots in the fall are candidates for Freshman and Junior Class officers. Half of the membership of the Student Legislature, and the Student, Men's and Women's Councils, is elected each fall and spring.

This year for the first time ballot boxes were placed in every dormitory plus the usual four Town Men's and one Town Women's voting precincts. Polls open at eight o'clock on election morning, remaining the campus centers of attraction until closing time at six o'clock, when the scene shifts to Graham Memorial; here vote-counting takes place and organized confusion prevails. As the night creeps by and score after score is tabulated, the crowd which has gathered around the score-keeper's blackboard grows and grows, becomes nervous and tense as the decision which hard-working candidates have anticipated for weeks is finally made. Late in the evening the final count is made: with mixed emotions the crowd breaks up and individuals head for their various campus abodes—the loser already looking with greater enthusiasm and expectations toward the next election, the happy victor vowing more fervently than ever to fulfill the trust and confidence placed in him by the vote of his fellow students.

An interested crowd, an exchange of I.D. card and ballots, an "x" by the preferred name and a smile from the precinct attendant constitute the order of the UNC election day twice each year.

School of Dentistry

School of Dentistry

John C. Braner
Dean

The faculty and the Dean of the School of Dentistry again are proud to present the graduates of 1957 to the people of North Carolina and the country. Leadership of our past graduates has been evident everywhere in private practice, the Armed Forces, graduate study, teaching, and research. This is true of the graduates in dentistry, those who have elected to pursue a specialty, and the dental hygienists. The standards of admission remain high, and thereby the graduates are a select and well qualified group who can and will represent the University and the profession with the highest ideals and tradition.

April

Flag's up, hat's off!—Raleigh is in safe hands as Kappa Alpha Confederates take over for the weekend.

Kappa Alpha Old South

KA's and their dates talk over final arrangements for the occasion toward which they have been looking and planning all year.

UNC Chapter President Howard Fogleman and KA Rose Anne Melton lead the figure at the Old South Ball.

Every year in the late spring the K.A.'s have their famous Old South Ball in Raleigh. With the chapters from Duke, N.C. State, Wake Forest, and Carolina participating, the KA's simply take over the capital city for one whole week-end. Saturday luncheon is served at the beautiful and picturesque Carolina Country Club. After the luncheon, a long parade is conducted down the main streets of Raleigh. The girls truly look like the belles of the Old South in their billowy hoop skirts and wide sun bonnets. The bearded K.A.'s are garbed as young southern gentlemen or confederate soldiers. That night a big dance is held in the Sir Walter Raleigh Hotel ballroom, the "Southerners" being featured as the orchestra. After night-long parties the KA's and their dates wearily return to school from another memorable and wonderful Old South Ball.

Ralph Usina, Chuck Flack, Lee Lyon, George Mitchell and Ray Newsome display the pains of two month's growth, by which all KA's are annually distinguished at Old South time.

Baseball

Coach Walter Rabb

After handling a hot grounder, shortstop Don Lewis makes the throw to first base.

While starting the season with a hitting slump to lose four of their first six games by a one-run margin, the Tar Heel baseball team won 13 out of their last 18 games to end the season with 14 wins, 10 losses and one tie. The Carolina squad finished third in the Atlantic Coast Conference and won the Consolation Championship in the Dixie Baseball Classic.

Coach Walt Rabb's sophomore-studded 1956 varsity baseball squad, which had only two seniors, will definitely constitute a threat for the 1957 conference crown. Bill Joe Johnson had a record of 3-1, while Raugh ended with a 6-4 record and 2.71 earned run average. Don Saine and Les Gilliland gave the Tar Heels further strength on the mound. The hitting department was led by Ivalee Hill with a high .358 average followed by Joe Shook with .348, Captain Jack Woods with .311 and Jack Mitchell with .300. The infield consisted of Ivalee Hill on third, Don Lewis at shortstop, Chuck Hartman and Carson Oldham at second, and Jack Woods at first. The outfield positions were held down by Joe Shook, Jack Mitchell and Delon Lambert.

In the Dixie Classic opening round Michigan took advantage of some timely hitting to defeat Carolina 4-2; Jim Raugh gave up only seven hits in losing. Carolina beat Duke on a three-run homer by Hill and a fine pitching performance by right-hander Johnson. Raugh returned to pitch the Tar Heels to the Consolation Championship over Loyola 12-8.

The 1956 season brought to a close the 27-year career of Coach "Big Steam" Hearn.

Captain Jack Woods stretches to make a put-out on a Duke runner in the semi-finals of the Dixie Baseball Classic.

Looking forward to Tar Heel prospects in the Dixie Baseball Classic were Joe Temple, Guy Moore, Jack Mitchell, Delon Lambert, Joe Shook and Dick Hudson.

First baseman Jack Woods throws to Jim Raugh who puts out State's Dick Hunter.

Second basemen Chuck Hartman and Carson Oldham.

Jim Love, Jerry Bryson and Gene McCracken prepare for game with Wake Forest.

Ivalee Hill, who led Tar Heels in batting with a .358 average, slugs out a single.

Officers are, seated, Bob Young, Vice-President; Ed Sutton, Secretary; Buddy Payne, Social Chairman; standing, John Billich, President, and Ken Bryant, Treasurer.

Monogram

The Monogram Club is an honorary organization for the athletes on the Carolina campus who have attained enough promise in their individual sport or sports to merit their earning a varsity letter. Once an athlete has won at least one letter, he has the privilege of becoming an active member of the Monogram Club. These are the boys who have fought for Carolina's glory until the last sound of the whistle. All have worked hard—no one earns a letter without some extra effort and work on his part.

Club

The function of the Monogram Club itself is to improve and advance athletics at Carolina, to better interschool relations, to serve its campus in various activities, and to serve as a media whereby the athletes of all sports can meet and become better acquainted with each other. The Monogram Club has various social functions throughout the year with the highlight being the annual beach weekend in the late spring. Each year the club sponsors the Blue-

White football game. The proceeds of this project are used as a scholarship for a minor sport athlete.

It has been the club's aim during the year to encourage more active participation in the organization. Realizing the tremendous influence the athlete and athletics have in today's colleges and universities, the club hopes to exert a powerful influence in attaining its objectives.

The Circus Room of the Monogram Club, featuring the Boettcher wood-carved relief of a William Meade Prince sketch, is one of UNC's most popular on-campus refreshment centers.

Sigma Chi Derby

As Sonny Forbes barks, "Got to sell this candy before we bring on the girls." Larry Harris is left holding the box.

Pi Phi "flappers" perform an unbeatable "Black Bottom" in the Derby's sorority skit competition.

In the "Hit the Geek" contest, it's hard to tell just what the target is.

Shirley Carpenter displays assets which won her the title "Miss Modern Venus."

The Sigma Chi Derby has been for the past twelve years one of the most popular and best attended events sponsored by a single fraternity at UNC.

The 1956 Derby was one of the most successful. The participants in the Derby are the six campus sororities and a group representing the nursing students. Each group competes in various events which are set up, so far as possible, like a horse race.

Some of the events that are annually looked forward to are: the Choosing of Miss Modern Venus, the Race to the Flesh, Hit the Geek, and the Secret Event.

The students always derive a great deal of pleasure from the Derby. Both the participating girls and Sigma Chi put a lot of work into this contest; however, the fraternity feels that it is fully repaid through the enjoyment which the Derby affords the student body.

Golf

Number one man Jimmy Sykes clips up on the green.

Atlantic Coast Conference Champion Buzzy Basinger drives on the third hole at Finley Golf Course.

Coach Chuck Erickson

Winning seven of eight matches and copping the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship, Tar Heel golfers had one of their greatest seasons in 1956. Impressive victories were won from non-conference foes Michigan State, Cornell and Michigan, while the only loss came at the hands of a strong Rollins team. Maryland, Clemson, Wake Forest and Duke, all conference foes, also fell to the Tar Heels.

A top performer on the UNC squad, Buzzy Basinger fired a record-breaking 139 to win the ACC championship. Gene Lookabill, another top linksman, reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA tournament. Other outstanding members of the 1956 team were number one man Jimmy Sykes, Joe Correll, Don McMillan, Walter Summerville, Aubrey Rothrock and Willis Henderson.

The Tar Heel Golf Team relaxes after winning the ACC Golf Tournament in Win-ton-Salem: Walter Summerville, Aubrey Rothrock, Jimmy Sykes, Coach Chuck Erickson, Buzzy Basinger, Joe Correll and Gene Lookabill.

In April the Valkyries Sing was again held in conjunction with annual Golden Fleece tapping ceremonies in Memorial Hall.

Chi Psi President Nick Fisher congratulates the fraternity's winning contestant in the Miss Chapel Hill competition, Miss Libby McDowell, who was also the fraternity's choice for Maid of Chi Psi.

Graham Memorial sponsored its first Jazz Festival in April.

Spring Germans featured Duke Ellington in a Saturday afternoon concert in Kenan Stadium.

That good old spring spectator sport—sometime later referred to as "base-ball a la burned-back."

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for pre-medical and pre-dental students. It was founded at the University of Alabama, April 23, 1926. There are over 13,200 members in 64 active chapters at schools throughout the United States.

The North Carolina Beta Chapter was founded at the University of North Carolina on March 27, 1936. The object of the Society is to encourage excellence in pre-medical and pre-dental scholarship, to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of pre-medical education in the study of medicine, to promote cooperation and contacts between medical students and educators in developing an adequate program of pre-medical education, and to bind together similarly interested students.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national service fraternity. It is composed of college men with previous scouting experience, who have an earnest desire to render service to others. It was founded upon the principles of leadership, friendship and service, and is dedicated to serving the student body, faculty, and the administration through worthwhile service projects. From a single chapter at Lafayette College back in 1925, APO has grown to over 300 chapters, located on almost every major campus in the U. S.

Rho Chapter was founded in 1937, and it has a proud history of unexalted service to the campus and the community. Under the inspired leadership of its president, John Molter, it continues to serve with such projects as Parent's Day, guide service for groups visiting campus, ushering at student functions, operating a non-profit Book-Ex, and assisting handicapped students.

Master of Business Administration Club

The Master of Business Administration Club was organized in 1953 in an effort to maintain the spirit which developed among former candidates. Objectives of the club include promotion of better student-faculty relationships, coordination of the academic program with actual business situations and problems, emphasis of the public and social responsibilities of business men, and development of an active alumni association. Activities include social gatherings with faculty members, publication of an alumni newsletter, and the sponsoring of addresses by business and educational leaders.

Alpha Kappa Psi—founded on October 5, 1904, at New York University—is the oldest and largest professional fraternity in business administration in the world. Chapters are located at 101 of the leading colleges and universities and there are alumni chapters in 30 cities.

Alpha Tau chapter was first installed at Carolina on February 18, 1925, de-activated in 1933, and re-activated on November 7, 1948. For four years, Alpha Tau has attained the highest efficiency rating in the national fraternity. L. R. Jordan (AT '50) was recently elected Grand Vice-President at the national convention in Detroit.

The professional fraternity is unique in that it provides all of the advantages of fraternal affiliation, yet offers the unusual benefits which accrue to a membership comprised exclusively of men who have chosen the same profession for their life's work. The purposes of Alpha Kappa Psi are to further the individual welfare of each member by the association of their mutual helpfulness and common interest in the areas of business administration, to foster scientific research in the field of commerce, and to educate the public to appreciate and demand a more compelling and a more honest business world.

Alpha Kappa Psi sponsors and carries out many professional programs and services for the benefit of its members and other students of business administration. Each year the fraternity brings to the campus outstanding speakers from the business world and sponsors professional seminars, career conferences, and research surveys. Inspection tours of leading industries and business firms are conducted at frequent intervals and a business fair is held biannually. This year the theme of the fair was "The Development of Small Businesses in North Carolina."

Delta Theta Phi

Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity was established in 1913 after duly appointed representatives of three existing fraternities had met in Chicago and adopted the constitution and ritual under the name of Delta Theta Phi. The first petition for a charter was made by a group of students at Atlanta Law School. They were installed as Wayne Senate in 1914. From this beginning, the fraternity has now reached a total of 82 active student senates, more than any other law fraternity. Also, in its 39 active alumni senates, it boasts the largest active alumni goal of the fraternity is the encouragement of high scholarship and legal learning. The motto of Delta Theta Phi is: "Our record is our proudest monument."

Ruffin Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity is one of seventy-seven active chapters throughout the United States. This large number of chapters was gained through a steady, conservative policy of expansion until today the Fraternity, with its thirty active alumni chapters, has more active chapters than does any other law fraternity in the world. Ruffin Chapter has contributed much to this success by its service to the Law School and the State. Some of our projects this year were the Mock Trial, the Book-Exchange, various speakers, and social events.

Phi Delta Phi

The International Legal Fraternity, Phi Delta Phi, founded nationally in 1869 and locally in 1919, is the oldest professional fraternity in the United States. Among its brothers are outstanding members of the bench and bar; its aim is to promote higher standards of professional ethics and culture. This year's program of activities included speakers banquets, a service program, the annual initiation with the other two state chapters before the Supreme Court in Raleigh, and lighter moments with guests and alumni.

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia was founded at the New England Conservatory of Music, in 1898. Its aims are to advocate the cause of music in America and to foster the mutual welfare and brotherhood of students of music.

Alpha Rho Chapter, founded locally in 1926, takes an active part in furthering musical activities at the University. Each year the chapter presents a concert devoted to the performance of works by American composers and frequently including compositions by members of the fraternity. Whenever possible, Phi Mu Alpha brings to the campus well-known guest artists.

Psi Omega is Dentistry's largest fraternity. Founded in Baltimore, Maryland, in 1892, it now boasts over 26,000 members in 78 chapters. Chi Upsilon Chapter was founded at the University of North Carolina on April 28, 1951.

The primary objectives of Psi Omega are to foster Dentistry in every possible way, and to give individual counsel and guidance to its brothers.

Psi O is located in West House on Old Fraternity Row. It lends its complete laboratory facilities and accommodations to out-of-town brothers during State Boards, and often entertains guests after sports events.

The fraternity is proud to have placed many brothers in Omega Kappa Upsilon, Dentistry's scholastic honor society.

Tennis

Don Thompson, singles runner-up in the ACC tournament, returns a ground stroke to Duke's Bobby Green.

Captain Tom Bradford uses a strong backhand to gain the advantage on a Harvard opponent.

Pete Green drives a hard shot past a Kalamazoo opponent to win the final set.

Bruce Gustafson returns a Miami player's powerful ground stroke with a passing backhand.

Coach Ham Strayhorn

Tennis Coach John Kenfield, having brought champion players and many championship teams to Carolina in his twenty-five year career, retired due to a stroke and left to Assistant Coach Ham Strayhorn another Atlantic Coast Conference Championship team. Top returning men were Don Thompson, Captain Tom Bradford, Pete Green, Ed Hudgins, Bob Bortner, Bruce Gustafson and Pete Dell. Sophomore John Foster also offered top competition.

The powerful UNC netters won their first match from Springfield College 9-0. Thompson, Green, Bortner, Foster and Dell won matches in that order, while Bradford-Green, Thompson-Foster and Bortner-Dell took doubles.

The Carolina tennis team won four more straight victories, including two wins from Harvard, before being tied by Kalamazoo 4-4. The unbeaten Tar Heels held their next four opponents scoreless before turning back one of their toughest opponents, the Duke Blue Devils, 6-3. After defeating Rollins in a tough match 6-3, the Tar Heels were held scoreless before the Miami Hurricanes 9-0. UNC netters were later complete masters of a northern trip in which they won six straight matches.

Winding up another successful season with a 9-0 triumph over N.C. State, the squad finished with a record of eighteen wins, one loss and one tie. In the ACC tournament Tom Bradford and John Foster won the doubles title, turning back Don Thompson and Pete Green in the finals. Don Thompson finished second in singles play.

John Foster, co-winner of the ACC doubles title, serves to a Virginia player in the second set.

Hogan's

At Hogan's there're times to sit and watch the sun-bright water, to talk in quiet tones with that special someone. . . .

. . . or to prove whether you're the one who'll keep her feet dry or push her in.

. . . it's the spot where that congenial crowd gathers to party and enjoy each other's company, or to do some really special late-spring planning.

Hogan's is a lakeside retreat about six miles from Chapel Hill which rests on the triple institutions of beer, bermudas and spring. It's a place where you can escape from the heat and crowd of the dorm or fraternity house. In the spring you can loll around on a blanket and let the breeze blow over you while you think about that big weekend when you'll really get away or plan a summer or reminisce over a few years as you think about graduation and the big world outside.

You stretch on the blanket, pull up a few blades of grass and tickle the ear of your date. She laughs and you look at the limp, sleepy trees with their fresh green leaves. You wish that that frantic crowd playing softball would quit so that you could talk in low tones with only the radio for a background. Maybe you wonder what you'll be doing a year from now, but then the afternoon is over and it's time to go back to the Hill . . .

Springtime and Hogan's mean softball, swimming and just good old wholesome hors-play. . . .

Sundown . . . and it's time for the troops to reconnoiter the lake shore before returning to the Hill or taking a break in preparation for after-dark partying.

Bill Bob Peele, Business Manager

It was a hard, trying year for The Daily Tar Heel.

But it was no different from the rest. All years are hard and trying for a daily student newspaper whose staff members are trying to maintain a "C" average. It was difficult, but the staff enjoyed the year.

More reporters—always the arms, legs and backbone of a newspaper—came to work than in the past four years. They learned to turn out news stories quickly, accurately and tirelessly.

Meanwhile, the advertising staff was wearing down Franklin Street's sidewalks; the business staff was closely watching the budget; the subscription and circulation staffs were greeting the dawn six days a week.

with student opinion in the form of letters, columns and surveys. Page Two was the scene of controversy over God and the meaning of religion; articles concerning sex on the campus, alcohol, athletics and trustee responsibility found places beside Powledge's editorials.

Managing Editor Charlie Sloan found a year filled with hot news and the prettiest coed staffers in a decade. For Business Manager Bill Bob Peele, the year was—he hoped in late May—profitable.

Throughout The Daily Tar Heel's year, the newspaper was concerned with truth above all. Much of the time, telling the truth brought enemies and a lot of four-letter accusations. But there also were words of praise that, in the newspaper business, are quite rare indeed.

Business Staff members are John Minter, Dale Staley and John Whitaker.

Editorial Staff members are, foreground, Bobbi Smith and Woody Sears; standing, Barry Winston and Ingrid Clay.

Truman Moore, Photographer and Assistant to the Editor.

Activities Co-Editors Tom Ray and Frank Schrimsher, and Student Government Editor Bert Davis.

Managing Editors and Co-Beauty Editors Judy Davis and Gene Whitehead.

Classes, picture-taking, and pandemonium for the Yack staff all began September 22, 1956, as Smith Studio made a photo lab out of the basement of Graham Memorial. Anne Melton and Judy Davis were on hand with drapes for the girls and pleasant smiles for the boys whose ire they had to calm when they told them that their coat was not dark enough; Truman Moore and Tommy Boyette began the almost impossible task of arranging appointments for the hundreds of group and informal photographs which had to be taken—breaking some and having some broken; and Tommy Johnson and Brad Hall struggled with the contracts and layouts in a desperate effort to complete the final plan of the dummy.

One-half the student body showed up to have their pictures taken on the final day, and the deadline for individual portraits had to be extended. But the pictures were taken and the dummy completed, and then the real work began anew. Gene Whitehead alphabetized until he forgot the alphabet, and Ann Drake and Lari Lawrence typed until their fingers were nubs. Don Millen ran everywhere from Raleigh to Spero's looking for shots for the Sports Section, and Bill Kane almost had to invade the Pentagon to get approval for the NROTC pictures. The beauty contest was held, and afterwards, Truman and Tommy began to lead each beauty individually into the seclusion of the Morehead Building. B. J. Maddison quietly completed her section and disappeared, while Larry Harris struggled with fraternities' delinquent in materials. Bert Davis dashed in and dashed out, Barbara Stockton had juniors running out of her ears, and Martie Whedbee wrestled with Phi Betes. Tom Ray and Frank Schrimsher declared war on the editor when he lost the FTA article. But the book slowly took shape.

Not quickly enough for the engravers and publisher, however. Calls came in from Charlotte and Baltimore. "Where's plate # 290," "Where's copy for pages 179-211?" Tommy started shouting "Where's my staff?" Nerves were on end. Yet the book continued to take shape, and finally it was completed.

Ere closing, a special word of recognition and thanks must go to "True-man," the "poor man's Cartier-Bresson," without whose time, talent and loyalty this volume could never have been produced; he served untringly in every staff capacity, from editor's assistant and advisor to proofreader.

Realizing that each UNC student has his own varying ideas as to what a yearbook is and how it should be done, we cannot hope to satisfy everyone—we can only attempt to produce as completely and effectively as possible a representative picture of life at Carolina in '56-'57.

the CAROLINA QUARTERLY

Marcelline Krafchick, Editor

Behind Editor Krafchick are John Cogswell, Assistant to the Editor; Don Freeman, Circulation Manager; John Underwood and Sylvia Yelton, Fiction Board members.

Founded in 1948, The Carolina Quarterly is the successor to The University Magazine, begun in 1844, oldest literary magazine in the South. It continues the tradition of discovering and encouraging writers by presenting them on a nation-wide scale to readers of a high-quality quarterly.

According to the Managing Editor of The Raleigh News and Observer, this year "The Carolina Quarterly is a much improved periodical . . . without the stultifying dullness of so many literary quarterlies . . . one of the best issues in years."

Publications Board

Members of the Publications Board are Tom Johnson, Treasurer; Mr. Walt Spearman, Faculty Advisor; Frank Farrell, Chairman; Marcelline Krafchick; Sylvia Phillips, Secretary; and Fred Powledge.

The Publications Board is one of the strongest symbols of the student government system which has gained for the University a special respect on campuses throughout the nation. Operating on an annual budget of approximately $90,000 the Board acts as a supervisory body and is generally responsible for the financial management of The Daily Tar Heel, Yackety Yack, and The Carolina Quarterly. In the past the Board has been able to point with pride to some of the finest college publications in the country, and hopes to preserve this outstanding record in the coming years.

June

On Sunday morning, after gathering at the Old Well, graduating Tar Heels form a procession and make their last formal entrance to Memorial Hall for the commencement sermon.

Graduation

Seniors and guests gather on-campus for the Lawn Concert presented by the UNC Band on Sunday afternoon.

Assistant Director of Student Activities Martha Decker serves Pharmacy School's Dean Brecht at the University Reception for commencement guests on Monday.

The last meeting of the Senior Class and it seems as if Orientation is starting again, only you know more people and feel as if the past four years were something that happened in a day. Caps and gowns stick to you in the hot bright sun of a Chapel Hill day in June. Baccalaureate Sunday starts and then it's over, and you try to remember what the speaker said. You find that you are rushed now more than ever before, but the whole rush moves at an unbelievably slow pace.

The trees hang lushly beside the buildings that will grow larger and softer as time separates you from them. You sit under the oaks late in the afternoon and listen to the Band Concert and all the old memories flood in and out of your mind. You wonder how it all could have happened in the few days since you came to Chapel Hill, but it did. Parents smile and shake hands with each other and you feel strangely embarrassed in sharing this with them.

Chancellor House, President Friday and Governor Hodges present an interesting mood study during the bestowing of honorary degrees at graduation exercises Monday evening.

Mr. Morehead's sundial was unveiled at graduation time in June 1956.

One last look will be taken at many things—it's a time for last things: the last test that you'll take, the last bridge game, the quiet dinner with that one girl, a last slow walk to some place that meant a lot for four years and now you're leaving it, that last night on the Hill when you look up at the sky and see that it's different here . . .

Kenan Stadium is hot and you twist and think of the cold fall days and the games and the parties. The speaker drones on and occasionally someone coughs. Programs are smudged and used as fans, but it doesn't help. The sun goes down and it's cool for the first time in a week. Graduation is over and—while there is that lump in the throat which came with graduation and the reality of leaving Carolina and what will be considered the best years of your life—there is a whole new world outside. You wonder where you'll be next June . . .

Summer

School

Summer school constitutes two six-week periods in which the Carolina Way of Life means more than drearily attending classes and catching the campus cold along with everyone else. It is a time of year when scholastic responsibility for most is limited to two hour-and-a-half classes in the morning and to five days a week. You have a chance to sit out at Hogan's in the afternoon and enjoy the lush hotness of Piedmont North Carolina where the sun and water are as lazy and relaxed as the students.

The sessions are broken by a Watermelon Festival and street dance and the little hard core of students here know how to enjoy themselves without rushing and trying to pack everything in over a two-day weekend. While enjoying the various cultural exhibits and presentations offered, there is also time and opportunity for contemplation and planning aimed toward next year. Excitement is present without frenzy and there never seems to be that push that always exists in the regular term.

Nights are warm and intimate and you feel as if the whole outside world is open to you for the first time all year. You can move about without the crowds—the seclusion of Chapel Hill is something to be prized rather than escaped. Before you know it the starry nights are beginning to get a bit cool and fall is almost upon you. Summer school is over and you wonder where the dream life that floated around the Hill has gone.

"I love watermelon," says Dean Carmichael-plus-raincoat to Dr. Boyd as summer's children laugh it up.

Chancellor House speaks on "A Modest Study of the Apostles" on a summer Sunday morning in the Forest Theatre.

Summer school afternoon lab experiments often prove interesting, if not always successful.

... one item as necessary to summer school as morning classes and bathing suit.

A summer's day, eight beautiful girls, one crown, penny votes, equals Watermelon Festival Queen!

While everyone else has taken off for Hogan's, Myrtle or the cooler confines of a fraternity cellar, a lone Bermuda-clad Tar Heel hones up for that hour quiz.

Graduate School

The Graduate School offers advanced and specialized studies to qualified students who have completed work leading to a bachelor's degree. Graduate work leading to the master's and doctor's degree is offered in most of the Arts and Science departments. Professional graduate curricula are established in Business Administration, City and Regional Planning, Dentistry, Education, Library Science, Public Health, and Social Work. Graduate work is offered in thirty-nine Schools, Departments, and Curricula.

School of Public Health

Edward G. McGavran, Dean

According to Dean McGavran, "Public Health is the science of the diagnosis and treatment of the health needs and status of the total community—or body politic as an entity."

UNC's School of Public Health, the fourth oldest school of its kind in the United States and one of the ten North American schools accredited by the American Public Health Association, incorporates this way of thinking into its curriculum. Professional people taking postgraduate work learn to function as inter-disciplinary community health teams through core courses, lectures, lab and field experience. The school, the focal training and service point for an integrated state-wide health program, attracts students from many other states and foreign countries.

Dusk creeps over the campus, as seen from the terrace of the Morehead Building.

Campus Scenes...

Spring foliage shelters Bingham Hall, the center of English learning at UNC.

UNC's life's blood flows from the heart of the Carolina campus—South Building and environs.

Advertisements

These are the businessmen, firms and companies which advertise in your yearbook. Their livelihood depends upon courteous, efficient service to you as a student and as part of the general American public. They need you even as you need them to supply necessities and luxuries. Close co-operation between student and advertiser will result in a happier and more prosperous life for both.
